Chapter 1 - The Convict's Nirvana

At midnight, Crow City, a third class city, could only bear to keep half the streetlights on. However, the abandoned chemical factory in the mountains currently had an array of large searchlights shining upon it, making it seem almost as if it was daytime in the area.

The place, where no outsiders had set foot in for years, had become crowded with people. A few dozen police cars, as well as some armored cars and ambulances, surrounded the office building in the eastern area of the factory.

On top of the roof, Chen Min, who was leaning against a rough cement pillar, stood gasping for breath. Ever since the first time he had started the difficult sporting rifle training, he had never breathed so hard like this.

Everything was because of the bastard Ba Liang Jin in front of him. He was known as the underground emperor of Crow City, and was the most powerful gang leader within the nearby areas.

This fierce-looking gangster had a mouth full of gold teeth, and normally, anyone that saw him would lower his head and run away, without any exceptions. Young women would definitely flee immediately. It was said that during the day, Crow City was managed by the police force, but during the night, Ba Liang Jin was the one in charge.

But at the moment, Ba Liang Jin was currently holding his head in his hands, kneeling in front of Chen Min on the cement platform. He had long lost his evil, tyrannical appearance. His mouth full of gold teeth had been yanked out one after another; the rusting pliers and the teeth were currently lying on one side.

Chen Min had tied a dog leash around Ba Liang Jin's neck. The sporting rifle that had helped Chen Min win the juvenile shooting championship was currently pointed at the back of the evil tyrant's head. All Chen Min had to do was lightly pull the trigger, and the evil tyrant's life would end.

However, Chen Min was exhausted to the point where even having the strength to pull the trigger was an uncertainty. During the past 3 hours, he had initiated a surprise attack on this chemical factory which was under the control of Ba Liang Jin and his over one hundred lackeys. He had killed up to 100 armed gangsters alone; those bastards weren't just some street hoodlums that called any knife a weapon either, they had been completely equipped with pistols and rifles, and were all criminals in the drug trade that had gone through shooting training.

Chen Min's sports rifle could riddle any target full of holes within a 100m radius. However, if he wanted to blow someone's head off, he'd have to shoot from less than 40m away. This also meant that he had basically shot the hundred armed hoodlums by directly confronting them, a path of slaughter.

Just as Chen Min was catching his breath, medical personnel started to move corpses outside of the office building. None of these gangsters had any injuries; all of them either had their heads blown off, or had gotten shot through their hearts with a single bullet. The professional SWAT members couldn't help but be shocked at this sight.

While the amateurs were watching the scene in excitement, the professionals understood the true meaning of the situation; only the SWAT members, who had proficient skills in shooting, understood exactly how terrifying the murderer was.

This was because all the bodies had been shot through the eye. The bullet had entered through the eye socket and destroyed the brain and the entire nervous system. There hadn't been a single chance of saving them. On the other hand, the bullets that had pierced through the heart had uniformly been shot between the same chink between two ribs. This greatly efficient action that conserved bullets had allowed even a mere competition sports rifle to become a murder weapon.

Perhaps every single SWAT member was able to shoot 10 high-score, perfect shots in a shooting range, but in a real combat situation, a myriad of changes could occur in an instant. The target would move around irregularly, causing one's precision to rapidly decrease. However, this murderer had been able to control each shot so well that they weren't even 0.1 millimeter off. This meant that the murderer's precision was like a killing machine's, without a single deviation or mistake.

The SWAT group immediately split their members into 4 ways, and climbed up the tall chimney tower across the murderer to deploy a position to shoot from. For the sake of ensuring their task's success, they had especially equipped themselves with JS7.62mm caliber sniping rifles. This could effectively hit a target the size of an apple within 800m, and a target the size of a coin within 500m.

Their position was only around 480m from the assassin. This evening had no wind, a moderate climate. It was definitely a sniper's favorite weather.

However, the four snipers combined with four observers were unable to lock onto their prey. At the moment, Chen Min's position was perfectly covered behind Ba Liang Jin's fleshy body; one couldn't even see a single hair of Chen Min's body.

"Falcon 1 reporting, unable to lock onto Sly Rabbit."

"Falcon 2 reporting, unable to lock onto Sly Rabbit."

"Falcon 3 reporting, unable to lock onto Sly Rabbit."

"Falcon 4 reporting, unable to lock onto Sly Rabbit."

Continuous messages of disappointment could be heard from the transmitter. Under these circumstances where they didn't want to harm the hostage, shooting the target had already become quite unrealistic. Thus, they had to create some opportunity in the situation to snipe their target.

A policeman with grizzled hair bravely volunteered to serve as a negotiator, and walked out from the back of the 9×5 SWAT formation.

"Young fellow, what's your name?" The old police officer asked with incomparable amiability.

"Bureau Chief Zhao! Save me!" Ba Liang Jin had always hated cops the most, yet he was currently shouting for one with a mouthful of blood, as passionately as one called their own father.

"Stop squawking, the guy's asking me." Chen Min tugged at the iron chain in his hands, almost leaving a mark on Ba Liang Jin's neck.

"Young fellow, I understand that you must have some sort of enmity with that bastard; our special investigation group has also gathered evidence of him terrorizing towns for years now. His crimes are enough for him to be shot dead a dozen times. There's no need for you to risk your life to fight him here. If you hand him over to us, the law will naturally return with fairness." Bureau Chief Zhao said passionately, trying to convince with reason.

"Too bad..." Chen Min softly said.

"Too bad what?"

"Too bad he owes me three lives: my father's, my mother's and my younger sister's. If I don't personally send a bullet through his head, I won't be able to sleep at night..." Chen Min said with such a deep hatred that the hand holding the gun even shook. Many years of shooting training had already given him the ability to steadily hold up 10kg dumbbells while standing straight, and remain unmoving for a whole 3 hrs. His arm hadn't shaken once since he had been 8 years old.

"You're Shen Chong Yang's son?" Bureau Chief Zhao was shocked. Shen Chong Yang and his wife were both private bodyguards. They had only come to Crow City for a business trip after receiving an assignment. They had brought their 6 years old daughter as well, but she had always stayed in the hotel room.

Just 2 days ago, Shen Chong Yang and his wife had died in a car crash.

As the daughter was being escorted to the hospital to verify her parent's bodies, she had also gotten into a car crash and was seriously wounded. Even now, she was still fighting for her life.

The police had already declared these two incidents as premeditated murder, and all the evidence pointed at the head of the area's gangs, Ba Liang Jin. However, Chen Min's avengement had been much faster than the police's actions. After personally hearing from his sister that the person had the feature of a mouth full of gold teeth, he had randomly forced a hoodlum to tell him of Ba Liang Jin's whereabouts.

He had spent the entire night fighting his way here. Before the anger in his heart had dissipated, he had finally cocked the gun at the back of the bastard's head.

"My father died...my mother died...my younger sister stopped breathing right in front of me...yet this bastard is still alive...how unfair is that?" Chen Min breathed heavily.

"All personnel be wary, he's about to fire..." An electronic sounding voice warned through the earpiece. This was one of the prepared snipers. Based on Chen Min's breathing sounds, the sniper could already determine that the youngster was making preparations to shoot.

"That's enough!" Bureau Chief Zhao suddenly bellowed, "Do you know how many people you've killed? 103! You still don't think your revenge is enough? Although they are all gangsters, they are still real lives. Based on your voice, you're still just a child, aren't you? Do you really want to send yourself to hell alongside these bastards?"

"A kinless person like me...is already in hell." Chen Min began to pull the trigger to send the final bullet through the barrel.

"Come at me! Open fire, you little demon! Do you dare to shoot? These police uncles aren't just weak herbivores, the amount of bullet holes in your body will be even more than mine. Do you dare?" Ba Liang Jin was so scared that he suddenly began to laugh crazily.

"You just don't understand..." Chen Min's hand no longer shook, "Discarding all distracting thoughts and shooting was my 'extracurricular homework' in primary school. When I fire, I've never once thought about whether or not I dare to; I simply check to see if the bullet trajectory needs to be revised or not."

He lightly bent his finger to trigger the firing pin and shoot the bullet out of the barrel. The instant the fire burst out from the mouth of the gun, an enigmatic sniper from the fifth secret sniping location also pulled his trigger to counterattack.

The professional sniper's bullet had 8x higher kinetic energy than the one from Chen Min's sports rifle. This bullet shot through the head of Ba Liang Jin, who had already been dead for 0.05 seconds, and exploded in Chen Min's face.

But miraculously, the enigmatic sniper's bullet had brushed past Chen Min's bullet in midair. In slow motion, the sniper's bullet's trajectory had amazingly changed. Originally, it had been meant to kill Chen Min in one go, but instead, it buried itself into his shoulder.

"That youngster...his luck is really quite good." The enigmatic sniper lifted the barrel to dump the burning shell out. He caught it in mid-air, and without waiting for any commendation for his shot, he disappeared into the curtain of night.

An entire 36 hours later, Chen Min awoke in a sick bed. He had luckily kept his life, but he was unable to run away from the law's judgement.

Using violence to curb violence was wrong, and even revenge had to be paid with one's life. Chen Min had committed deliberate murder, moreover, he had killed 104 people in succession. This incident had already been reported onto all sorts of media, from the newspaper to the television.

He had formerly been a juvenile shooting star, but today, he had committed the extremely heavy offence of murder. Such extreme opposites had made the news even more renown, and even those outside of the country had related reports of the incident.

Chen Min was only 16 years old this year; how could a teenager kill 104 people so callously? This was something that no one could believe.

However, the man sitting next to Chen Min's bed felt that all of this was normal.

"Are you awake? Youngster, your physical capabilities are still a bit lacking. Such a minor injury was enough to knock you out for 36 hours. If you were on the battlefield, you would've already died 10 times." The muscular man wearing a camo military uniform, yet without any military ranks or medals, teased.

"I'm not a soldier...nor was that a battlefield..." Chen Min looked up at the grey ceiling as he coldly replied. His current location wasn't a hospital, but a prison. The cold iron bars at the head of his bed were the unsurmountable border between him and freedom.

"Correct, that place wasn't a battlefield, but a purgatory. Those people you killed all had expressions on their faces that were even more appalling than the spirits in hell. Countless of the bodies had sullied pants, and some of those that had been struck from behind had already clearly given up on resisting. You even shot through the chink in their ribs to strike their heart." The large man in uniform described heartily.

"If you're trying to make me feel guilty, then sorry to disappoint you; I have never felt grief for the targets I've shot in my life, whether they were targets made of paper or flesh." Chen Min was so unfeeling that he didn't even seem human.

"Youngster, do you know what will happen now?" The large uniformed man asked with a smile.

"Identify the crime scene? Go on trial? Be executed?" Chen Min showed no trace of fear.

"That's just the normal process. Actually, your future has another possibility: you can join the 'Nirvana Project' to complete inhuman assignments, and try to persevere for 10 years. Although the chance of surviving that long is low, if you do manage to survive it, you can once again return to your life in society; you can achieve nirvana and be reborn.

"Both mean you'll die. It just depends on whether you'd prefer to die on the desolate execution ground, or on the blood-soaked battlefield." The large uniformed man placed the empty shell that had shot Chen Min next to his pillow. "I'm Kaos; you can address me as Colonel or Demon. In my entire career as a sniper, you are the first person to have ever survived a shot from me within a 500m distance."

"Nirvana is something that you have the qualifications to join."

"Nirvana, huh?" Chen Min quietly said to himself.

Chapter 2: The Dirty Hoodlum's Return

10 years later, in Lin Hai City. A girl wearing tight, denim hot pants and suspenders was currently sitting on the roadside next to an abandoned bus stop. It was afternoon, and the sun shone fiercely. The temperature in Lin Hai City had risen to 38 °C, and aside from the girl, no one was willing to run to the outskirts of the city on such a day.

There wasn't a single car in sight on the straight road. The white, skin-tight T-shirt the girl was wearing, was already soaked with sweat, revealing her black-laced underwear. Her perfectly round, firm, 32C's were delicate and filled with youth.

The girl had been a natural beauty since she was young. She had large, cunning eyes, and a high nose. She had cherry lips in addition to her exquisite white skin, and a model-like figure that was 168cm tall; her legs alone were 105. She was so beautiful that she could even make Buddha fall in love with her.

A young woman like her appearing in a desolate, wild place like this wasn't really normal, especially with a .77 caliber pistol hanging on her waist.

The woman continued to wait there until she finally moved the heavens, and a strong breeze suddenly whooshed past her, blowing her long black ponytail of hair into the air.

She lifted her head to see that the mysterious wind wasn't just some favor sent by the gods, but rather the result of 10 military helicopters circling the air above her. The aircraft had an anti-tank missile hanging from it, and the 32 rockets sent firing were so close that she could read the serial numbers on them.

There were not army camps in Lin Hai City's perimeters. Seeing such a scene was really rare, and the girl stood up in shock.

At that moment, a camouflaged armored car appeared racing over at high speeds from the distance. The leading car was actually 99A's newest heavy-duty tank, and the entire fleet included two tanks, 3 armored cars transporting people, as well as the 10 military helicopters above her. A fleet like this was enough to decimate a small scale village, and annihilate hundreds of terrorists.

However the only mission today was..."an express delivery of a live body".

The armored car spit out black and purple fumes as it imposingly stopped in front of the woman. The two tanks behind it drove a bit further, and its cannon pointed at the armored car in the middle. The 10 military helicopters above did the same.

Dozens of special soldiers armed to their teeth rushed out of the other 2 armored cars. They quickly began to set up sniping positions; there were even 2 lying down in wait next to the woman. The formation was one that looked as if they were about to face a tsunami of enemies rushing over.

Finally, 4 members wearing protective battle clothing walked towards the armored car at the center. They opened the car door, and stuck an iron rod extending 2m long through it, to undo the locked shackles inside, and poke the "express delivery" they were escorting out.

The person was wearing fading jeans, as well as a skin-tight, black T-shirt that revealed his defined muscles.

The locks on his fetters and handcuffs were even heavier than those used by an elephant. The cover over his head was like the iron mask that the man-eater in wore. The only things exposed were his unblinking eyes that were observing the world around him.

"There's no need to be so extreme, right?" The woman took out some documents. She was the official in charge of receiving this special death row convict and sending him home.

This death row convict was the "Juvenile Butcher" whose name had been known everywhere 10 years ago, the devil that had soaked his hands in the blood of 104 people. But because the ones he had killed were all hoodlums, most of the media and the citizens also liked to call him the Juvenile Hero.

Hero was great, and Devil was fine as well, but in all the news reports, he should've already received the death penalty ten years ago. To the current world, Chen Min was someone who no longer existed. The Chen Min that was currently in front of the woman was a "normal person" that just happened to have the same name.

"Is there anyone that can do the transfer procedures? Hi, I'm Xiao Yi, from Lin Hai City's sub-bureau." The woman said helplessly, with absolutely no clue who she was supposed to find in order to complete the task.

"The target has been delivered! Retreat! Retreat! Retreat!" The leader commanded, and all of the troop members frantically raced back into the armored cars, as if they had just seen a ghost. Just like that, the fleet fled into the distance, leaving behind not a single trace of a shadow.

After the group of people had run away leaving dust behind them, the only one remaining was Chen Min. He was quietly standing beside the road with his entire body shackled, as well as a key on the ground next to him.

"It looks like this fellow is really a terrifying person..." This was Xiao Yi's first time receiving such a mission, so she was a bit scared to unlock the chains on Chen Min, who was currently wrapped up like a dumpling in shackles. However, Xiao Yi was an elite female cop, and so she wasn't scared to the point that her beautiful face would lose color.

Xiao Yi composed herself, took out the pistol at her waist, and carefully picked up the key in front of Chen Min.

"Chen Min?" Xiao Yi asked.

The "dumpling" nodded.

"I'm the officer that has come to receive you. My name is Xiao Yi. You still haven't been reprieved of your parole period, so for the next 2 years, I will be at your side 24/7. Every one of your movements will be reported, and if you show any signs of breaking the rules, I have the power to shoot you dead on the spot. If you refuse to accept these arrangements, I have the power to shoot you dead right now. Do you understand?" Xiao Yi spoke, with the key in one hand, and the pistol in the other.

The “dumpling” had already nodded so many times, he looked like a toy.

Only then did Xiao Yi insert the key into the keyhole on Chen Min’s butt. It was clear that whoever designed these shackles was gay...

With a ‘katcha’ sounds, all 36 shackles on Chen Min’s body automatically opened up at the same time. Chen Min jumped up like a bolt of lightning and began to charge towards Xiao Yi as fast as a cyclone, straight to the side of the road.

Xiao Yi got frightened by the sudden unforeseen event, and immediately reacted by nimbly aiming the pistol that was previously at her waist, towards the back of Chen Min’s head. According to the operation’s regulations, if Chen Min showed any sign of running away from the observer or tried to do anything illegal, she could shoot him on the spot.

However, Chen Min hadn’t run away. Instead, he immediately dropped his pants and began to pee, the sound roaring like a running faucet on full blast. A stream of urine the thickness of an arm struck two small saplings by the road squarely in the middle, causing them to bend in half.

Xiao Yi had handled perverts before, but she had never seen one this perverted. Chen Min was showing his bare butt on one side, and was shamelessly peeing right in front of a beautiful woman. While he was peeing, he was even ranting, “Those damn special force bastards, all I did was break some of the stronger soldiers’ legs. I didn’t think they’d be so fraudulent as to wrap me up in that torture instrument and send me away under escort. I was even prevented from peeing for 36 hours. My kidney practically exploded! If I died, how could I buy an iPhone 6?”

"Chen Min! Put both hands on your head, and immediately kneel down to the ground!" Xiao Yi shouted at him from behind.

"Girl, can you be a bit more hygienic? I just touched my penis, and now you want me to place my hands on my head? That's disgusting!" Chen Min sneered without actually turning around.

"Stop spouting nonsense. Trust me, I'll make you stuff your hands in your mouth if you don't do what I say!" Xiao Yi cocked her gun, coldly signifying that she'd do as she said.

The first thing that the police academy had ever taught her was to intimidate the criminal with a threatening manner. Even though it was still under inspection whether or not Chen Min counted as a criminal, peeing on the side of the road definitely counted as a crime of indecency already.

"Alright, you win, miss female cop." Chen Min sighed as he tied his belt and placed both hands behind his head as he knelt to the ground. His actions seemed like he was very experienced with doing so.

"Listen up. First, from the moment I received you, I automatically left the police ranks. However, I still maintain the privilege to shoot you dead. From now on, during the next two years, I don't care if you're going to the bathroom or sleeping, you have to report to me. If you dare to do anything that I suspect as you running away, I will kill you right there and then. Do you hear me clearly?" Xiao Yi roared in anger.

"Beautiful lady, do I need to report to you when I masturbate as well?"

Chen Min still dared to rebuke her even at gun point. She really wondered if he was a nutjob.

"You disgusting hoodlum, stop wasting your words. Do you or do you not believe that I will explode your brains right now?" Xiao Yi was so mad that her face was now brightly colored.

"I don't believe it, because your gun has no bullets. If you listen closely, you can hear the rustle of the wind blowing through it; if you had bullets, it would be making a 'bi bi' sound," Chen Min objected.

"Does a theory like that actually exist?" Although Xiao Yi was doubtful, she unconsciously brought her gun up to her ear to listen.

"Wow, you really didn't have any bullets. I was almost about to piss in my pants from fear." Chen Min patted his chest as he stood up. Everything just now had been him deceiving the woman.

"You tricked me?!" Xiao Yi was so mad she almost collapsed on the road.

"Don't say such ugly words. That's called cheating tactics. Actually, there wasn't any need for you to try to scare me. I promise that I'll be the most diligent citizen; I'll carry out all my official duties and obey the law. For the next two years, I'll report everything to you, no matter how major or minor it is." Chen Min said cheaply. "Now let's forget the unpleasant things that happened just now, and start over with introductions! Hi, my name is Chen Min, 26 years old."

Seeing the man in front of her politely reach out a hand, she began to feel like she had really been too narrow-minded. She took a deep breath to calm her emotions, and shook Chen Min's hand, "I'm Xiao Yi, 22 years old. I hope that you will actually do as you say. For the next two years, you'd better not cause any trouble for me."

"'Sister-in-law'? Your name clearly indicates you're just taking advantage of me. But that's ok, I haven't washed my hands yet, so we're even." Chen Min chuckled evilly.

(TL Note: Her name is 肖仪 Xiao Yi, but sister-in-law is also pronounced Xiao Yi 小姨)

"You vile hoodlum!" Xiao Yi seemed to have recalled what Chen Min had just been doing, and hurriedly retracted her hand.

A few minutes later, an outdated, cross country jeep brought them into the city. Dumping his military filled backpack in the backseat, Chen Min sat in shotgun, clearly enjoying the coastal view and the blowing breeze as they traveled.

He, who hadn't gone even home once the past decade, felt that even Lin Hai City's air was extremely warm and comfortable. He had a child-like happiness that caused a smile, unlike his previous hoodlum one, to appear on his face.

"Listen closely, you're no longer the Chen Min you were before. If any acquaintance asks, you're only someone who lives overseas that came back to visit. It's that simple." Xiao Yi instructed as she drove.

"I know, 'sister-in-law'. Actually, such concerns are really unnecessary. Aside from my dead parents and little sister, I don't have any other relatives or acquaintances in this city." Chen Min replied with his eyes closed.

"I've seen your files before. You were an orphan at birth, and was picked up from the orphanage at the age of 6 and was raised by Shen Chong Yang. From a young age, you started following professional shooting training, and you were a genius sports rifle shooter back then." Xiao Yi looked at the man next to her. Although he had seemed extremely, extremely unruly, it was hard to connect him with the Juvenile Butcher that had killed 104 people.

"I've never seen your files, but I know that you're an administration personnel in the police department. You're an expert in MMA and Taekwondo, and you grew up in a family of cops. In addition, you don't know how to communicate with people, so you have very poor relationships with those above and below you."

Xiao Yi abruptly braked, causing Chen Min's face to smash into the windshield in front. Beyond shocked, Xiao Yi turned to look at Chen Min.

"How did you know?"

"Young miss, can you not get distracted while driving? I was almost sent flying!" Chen Min rubbed at his red cheeks as he grumbled, "You 'told' me yourself. The tip of your index finger is slightly calloused. It's not due to pulling a trigger, but because you constantly click a mouse. That's why you're part of administration."

"Your pace is really stable and steady and your breathing is reserved, which means that you're good at close combat. Your posture when holding a gun is also very professional, and is definitely a result of learning from a young age. There's no way you didn't come from a family of cops."

"If someone as outstanding as you ended up becoming administration...it would be weirder if you didn't have poor relationships with those above and below you! Moreover, you came to observe me, which means it's even possible that someone wants to send you to your death."

"You're wrong. The task of monitoring you...was something I applied for myself." Xiao Yi's racing heart finally calmed down after some deep breaths. She once again started the car and continued, "Because you're the key to making my dreams a reality."

Chapter 3: The Chen Family's Bodyguard Business Office

Just as Chen Min had said, Xiao Yi was indeed born into a family of cops. Starting from her grandfather's generation, regardless whether they were male or female, every single one of her family members had become police officers. To the little Xiao Yi, the most beautiful clothes were the police uniform, the funnest toy was the gun, and the most interesting game was the training in seizing techniques...

Just like that, the little girl had been influenced by her SWAT-membered father and brother, who had been her life's idols.

She had always studied diligently, and passed the exam to enter the police academy, eventually graduating with flying colors, just for the sake of becoming part of the front line criminal police force for assault. However...she hadn't imagined that when she had entered the Lin Hai City sub-bureau to receive official training, she had encountered a bad instructor that harassed her. The upright her immediately reported him to the superiors, and the instructor was shanggui. (TL Note: <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Shuanggui>)

It clearly wasn't her fault, but she had become labeled as 'troublesome' because of this incident. In the end, she hadn't been assigned to chasing criminal runaways or drug pushers, but rather, was stuck sitting in the office doing administrative work. Not only that, she had been assigned specifically to appraise materials and had become...someone responsible for confiscating porn.

What kind of humiliating job was that? Moreover, she was still a virgin that didn't know much about sex, yet she spent every day looking at thousands of H materials. During her first month, she hadn't even been able to eat, and had to rely on sleeping pills to fall asleep every night. Everything she saw, looked as if it had been mosaic-ed.

She had wanted to resign countless times, but every time she went home, her mother would question her about work with such an earnest expression. She could only bring herself to smile and reply, "It's ok, quite fitting."

She hadn't been able to bring herself to tell her mother the truth. Her mother, who had retired from Public Safety, loved to brag to others about how her daughter had also become part of the police.

Xiao Yi had secretly waited for the Nirvana opportunity the whole time...one day, her cousin from the imperial capital had mentioned that a death convict had returned to Lin Hai City. The fellow's history wasn't small, and Lin Hai's sub-bureau needed a special observer to stick by his side. The observer had to report every action of the convict for two years. Because of these unique circumstances, the amount of people volunteering to accept this task naturally declined. However, anyone that completed the task would surely be a talented person that any police officer would surely be jealous of.

Xiao Yi had thrown caution to the wind, and went straight to her Bureau Chief to accept the task. This was the only chance she'd have to leave her current job. The Bureau Chief had hesitated for a bit, but after looking at Xiao Yi's target's documents, he agreed to hand the task to her.

However, Xiao Yi hadn't known before accepting the task that her target of observation was the Juvenile Butcher from ten years ago — Chen Min.

How did sitting together with a death row convict feel like? Xiao Yi simply never stopped wishing that the bastard would just die. It wasn't because he was frightening, but rather because he was the worst scum in existence. As soon as he saw a beautiful woman, he'd immediately wolf-whistled. Even while waiting at the red light, he had to turn and ask the beautiful driver in the car next to them how much one night with her would cost.

When he saw the skyscraper, he said 'Wow'; when he saw a big-breasted beauty, he said 'Wow'; when he saw an old grandma run into a car, he also said 'Wow'...

"Are you some broken doll? Stop your damn 'Wow'-ing!" Xiao Yi finally couldn't stand it any longer.

"It's been a decade since I returned. Of course I'd find everything interesting. That damn Colonel Kaos made me spend over 50% of my time standing in a pile of corpses, and Africa had practically become my home. That place was filled with black girls! You couldn't even see them with night-vision goggles. Being able to see so many beauties from my homeland makes all my past hardships worth it." Chen Min said as he stared at a 34F beauty walk past. The woman's chest swayed up and down as she walked, making Chen Min drool and cry simultaneously.

"There is no cure for shitheads. God, please make these next 2 years pass quickly!" Xiao Yi silently prayed. She had only been with Chen Min for 20 minutes, but she had already reached her limit.

The jeep entered the commercial residential area. In between some towering skyscrapers was a rundown, small, two story house. This house was the last thing that Shen Chong Yang had left for Chen Min. During the past few years, the area had been turned into a high end business district, but this house had still been preserved.

It hadn't been torn down by the workers because the developer of the business district had received an order from the higher ups: regardless of how much other stuff they tore down, they weren't to touch a single blade of grass of this property.

"We're here." Xiao Yi pulled into the garage, scaring away quite a few cockroaches.

Based on the standards from a decade ago, Shen Chong Yang's two story house could be said to be particularly stylish. It had a garage, a fenced garden, and even a loft on the roof that the family could see the night stars from. This place had taken up all of his savings, all for the sake of becoming the family's comfortable niche.

Seeing the formerly comfortable house become so rundown, Chen Min's emotions grew complicated, but his feelings were not something that others would be able to detect. He picked up a sign that had been leaning against the side of the wooden fence, and rubbed away the thick layer of dust that had accumulated. The words on the sign were revealed to be "The Shen Family's Bodyguard Business Office. We will always wholeheartedly serve you."

These words had been handwritten by his mother, because although his father was proficient with a gun, his handwriting had been undecipherable.

"From now on, we'll live here. It's old, but it's a house with its own yard. This is a place that can't even be found on this street anymore, hm?" Xiao Yi stood in front of the door with her hands on her hips.

Suddenly, the house's door was pushed open from the inside. Four men dragging metal and wooden sticks walked out. Injection punctures could be seen on their wrists, and there was still bits of white powder sticking on them. It was clear to see that these were drug addicts.

"You stinking f*ckers, get out! This is our turf!" The robust, 185cm leader roared. A drug addict with his kind of physique was really quite rare.

"Big Brother, that chick isn't bad! How about we have some fun?" An ugly lackey said.

"You group of trash have no face. Seizing homes in broad daylight, taking drugs, and even trying to terrorize innocent citizens and do indecent things to a woman, do you know how long you can be jailed for when all these crimes are added together?" Xiao Yi coldly glared at them in disgust. There was no way she'd pay attention to a few drug addicts.

Just as she was preparing to carry out justice, Chen Min walked over from behind her and shoved the dirty signboard into her arms.

"Hold this." He said as he walked over to the door.

"You stinking brat, you're going to help her?!" Having snorted so much drugs, the man had long since lost all reason. He flailed his arms around, whipping his wooden stick towards Chen Min's head. If this hit made contact, Chen Min would have become retarded, if not dead.

Just as Xiao Yi was prepared to interfere, she saw Chen Min's body flash, his actions were so quick that they seemed almost instantaneous. The wooden stick swooshed by, right next to his body. Without waiting for the opposite party's shock to fade, Chen Min waved his hand and used only his forefinger to hook onto the bastard's nostril and fling him to the ground.

The pitiful leader of the group that was half a head taller than Chen Min was smashed into the concrete, causing the ground to vibrate. The man's eyes rolled to the back of his head as he lost consciousness, foam coming from his mouth.

The other 3 lackeys had pissed in their pants from fear. They were simply addicts, not actually hoodlums that often brawled on the streets. Among their group, the only one that dared to fight was their boss. Yet he had been knocked down by Chen Min with a single finger. Immediately, they dropped the stuff in their hands.

"From today onwards, anyone that dares to even take half a step into my house, will die." Chen Min said as he wiped the leader's snot and blood off his finger. "Scram!"

Chen Min bellowed, scaring the addicts into a panicked escape. They were surprisingly quite loyal, and didn't forget to drag their boss away out too.

Only after seeing that Chen Min wasn't going to overdo the disciplining, did Xiao Yi release her hold from the gun at her hip. This time, it was loaded.

The observer's assignment had noted that because Chen Min used an extremely horrifying murder technique, he was one of the greatest dangers to society. It was because they were unsure if he could adapt to the life of a normal person in society that they had arranged for an observer to stay by his side for 2 years.

Xiao Yi's most important task during this observation period was not to follow him, but to kill him the moment he used too much violence. Of course, Xiao Yi wasn't exactly willing to do this. It wasn't because she was sympathetic towards him, but because as soon as Chen Min died, her task would also end. What awaited her afterwards was endless porn films. Moreover, she heard that the bureau had recently destroyed a GV factory. When she thought of the moans and gasps of the actors through the screen, Xiao Yi couldn't help but shudder.

The following amount of time was completely used to clean. Xiao Yi was simply an observer, not a janitor, so she had no desire to get involved.

She saw the body of Chen Min, who had taken off his tight-fitting T-shirt to prepare for the work. Aside from his beautiful muscles on his back and chest, there were also various scars overlaying each other all over his body.

Xiao Yi was dazed. This man's body looked as if it had been made of steel. His countless scars made it seem like he had been ripped to shreds numerous times.

The one who had treated him was definitely not a doctor, but a tailor. Xiao Yi saw that he had a half-finger's width tumor that stretched from his left shoulder to his right hip nearly 1m long.

It was hard to imagine how this man had lived for the past decade. It must have been hell. After all, the sin he had once committed was one that should've dragged him to the underworld. Now, he had been reborn, and Xiao Yi really hoped that the justice in his heart hadn't been erased by his slaughter.

Chen Min finished two days' worth of housekeeping activities in a single afternoon. He really had monstrous physical strength; he had even been able to single-handedly carry a broken sofa and run around with it on his shoulder...

He had even weeded the garden and fixed the broken garage door. The two story house that had been abandoned for 10 years finally glowed with the feeling of a real home.

"You already have a home. What do you plan on doing next? I have a few decent jobs I can introduce to you." Xiao Yi walked up to Chen Min as she looked around at the new Shen family home.

"No need, I already know what I should do." Chen Min picked up the now shiny sign that had been hanging on the front door and said, "Shen Family's Bodyguard Service will reopen once more today!"

"Are you joking? Do you have experience as a bodyguard?" The corner of Xiao Yi's mouth twitched.

“I have more experience with killing people, but the techniques are the same. Before, I was supposed to try my best to kill my target, but now I need to do anything to keep my target alive. That’s it.” Chen Min innocently smiled.

Chapter 4 - Thorny Rose

"Hello, mom, from today onwards, I'll be on a secret mission. I'll probably only be able to return home after a while." Inside a closed toilet, Xiao Yi took off her denim shorts[2] while talking to her mother. "I know, I'll keep my safety in mind. You worry for those bad people that offended me. My martial arts were passed down from dad! Oh right, don't tell dad or big brother about me going on a secret mission. They already work very hard outside, I don't want them to worry. Remember to take care of your body, and don't play mahjong for so long, it's bad for your waist. Alright mommy, I'm going to shower now."

After hanging up the phone, Xiao Yi's eyes teared up. She suddenly felt that she was very selfish. To escape her job of confiscating porn, she undertook the mission of an observer, and deceived her mother. Originally, her dad and older brother had been transferred to a special forces team in Beijing[1], leaving her and her mom to fend for themselves in Lin Hai City. Now that she had left home too, her over five decades old mother was all on her own.

Putting aside those distracting thoughts, she hoped that these two years would be her own nirvana. The best case scenario would be that after this mission, she too would be transferred to the Beijing. This way, she could naturally bring her mother there too, and the whole family would be reunited.

Xiao Yi took off her skin-tight T-shirt while humming a small tune. Wearing only her black lace underwear, she looked at her exquisite figure in the dressing mirror. Suddenly, the sound of someone knocking on the door could be heard.

"What is it? I'm washing up. Why don't you use the toilet downstairs?" Xiao Yi didn't need to think at all to know who it was outside the bathroom.

"I will begin to run away in thirty seconds. Starting now." Chen Min said coldly.

"What did you say?" Xiao Yi was stunned. She even slightly forgot that the person she was following was a death row convict.

"I meant exactly what I said. You still have twenty-five seconds." By the time Chen Min finished saying those words, he was already running towards the entrance on the bottom floor.

"Bastard! You dare run?!" Xiao Yi panicked. She immediately wore the denim shorts that she had just taken off, and rushed out of the toilet. She didn't even have enough time to put on her T-shirt. At the moment, Chen Min had just closed the door to the house.

Knowing that this wasn't a joke, Xiao Yi became livid. She grabbed her handgun and chased him outside. Luckily, there was enough time to wear a pair of shoes.

At the entrance to the Commercial Business Area, it was nighttime, and there was nobody around. Under the orange streetlights, Chen Min's body was leaning close to the ground as he dashed forwards.

"Halt! Stop running!" Xiao Yi, who came from a family of cops, shouted out of habit. Her 105cm legs, chased after him in long strides.

The two people were about 100m apart, and moving at high speeds. Chen Min was already out of Xiao Yi's handgun's range, so she could only try her best to catch up to him.

Xiao Yi went all out. She kept up with Chen Min for 1.2km, running like mad for 3mins, and directly ran into a crowded street.

The streets tonight were abnormally lively. Many pedestrians saw Xiao Yi running in her underwear with their own eyes. Quite a few perverts took out their phones and snapped photos of Xiao Yi's tender 32C breasts shaking as she ran. But as soon as they saw the gun in her hand, they were so scared that their erections went flaccid[3] and they immediately made way for her.

Chen Min, who was in the lead, was like a monster as he dashed through the crowd, it was as if he did not slow down at all. Any pedestrian that he brushed by, felt as if a large gust of wind suddenly blew past them. He agilely grabbed onto a flowerbed with one hand, then flipped over it. He was even steadier than a gymnast as he fell. Then, he continued to run full speed ahead.

Only those who had chased after Chen Min before, would know why this monster needed observers. That single armed flip showcased Chen Min's superhuman physique. Xiao Yi concluded that even if she were racing against her brother[4], who was a member of the special forces, she wouldn't be left behind by much. But the 100m gap between them just wasn't something Xiao Yi could close, no matter how hard she tried.

Running at full speed for a sustained period of time made her feel as if her lungs were about to explode. Her calcaneal tendon hurt so much that it felt like it could rupture at any moment. However, Xiao Yi just strongly gritted her teeth and continued to chase after Chen Min as if her life was on the line[5], she was unwilling to back off in the slightest.

Arriving at an old apartment complex that Chen Min had dashed into, Xiao Yi went inside as well. There, she saw Chen Min behind a pair of closing elevator doors, waving at her.

“Bastard! Stop right there!” Xiao Yi didn’t even bother with a warning shot. She just took aim and fired. The bullet grazed past the closing elevator doors and shot inside. However, it missed its target.

The elevator rose towards the top floor. Xiao Yi took a deep breath and rushed up the spiral stairs.

“Youngest aunt’s[6] skill with the gun.....really impressive.” Inside the elevator Chen Min, who had obviously run full speed for over 20mins, wasn’t even breathing hard. He touched his cheek, which was slightly bleeding.

After running at full speed for a long distance, one’s heart would beat rapidly, and their breathing would be unstable, affecting shooting accuracy. Even though the distance just now was only 10m, as long as Xiao Yi managed to hit the elevator door, she would be on the same level as the elites of the police world. To be able to shoot into the elevator and graze Chen Min..... she was already at the standard of the special forces.

Chen Min, this immoral person took the smoking lift straight to the 23rd floor. We should pity the chasing Xiao Yi. She ran so much that her right leg cramped, so she had to hop to the last floor.

Her skin was completely covered in sweat, and her black lace underwear was so soaked that it could have water wrung out of it.

This was an old apartment complex. Apart from the entrance where Xiao Yi was standing at, there was no other way out. She used the breathing technique her father taught her to adjust her heart rate, endured the pain of her cramping leg, readied her gun and walked towards the last door. She used one hand to open the door 90 degrees. Xiao Yi vigilantly and swiftly looked around to find her target.

But right at that moment, there was the sound of a fist banging the wooden door at her side, and in the next moment, something just grabbed Xiao Yi's gun. In less than 0.1s, Xiao Yi's .77 caliber handgun was dismantled into scrap metal like it was a lego figurine.

Xiao Yi jumped up and gave a roundhouse kick. It was impolite to not return favours[7]. So, she did so by directly kicking the old dilapidated wooden door into a heap of sawdust.

"Your fitness is quite good, and your legs are very strong. Your body is a lot stronger than mine was before I joined the Nirvana." Chen Min patted the sawdust off his body. He looked at Xiao Yi who was 2m away. He was not the least bit stingy with his praises.

"My fist isn't bad either, why don't you try it?" Xiao Yi clenched her fists and took up a fighting stance. Her shoulder muscles were gathering all the strength they could muster. Her abdominal muscles became increasingly distinct. It seemed like this was the “tension’s beauty”[15] that few women had, just like a thorny rose.

“I advise you to calm down. Your right leg is already cramping. Your body is also severely overexerted. Like this, you are no threat to me whatsoever. If you still have a brain, you should call the police and let other people handle this,” Chen Min advised.

“I obviously know that asking for backing is the most appropriate thing to do, but if I don’t beat you up myself, this lady won’t be happy!” Xiao Yi’s one leg jumped forward by two steps, and closed in on Chen Min. Her speed was faster than a nimble boxer and she threw out a combination of punches that brought up a fierce wind.

Chen Min retreated while dodging. It was like he was Xiao Yi’s dancing partner and there was a tacit agreement between them. In one go, he retreated 5m. Then, Chen Min tightly held Xiao Yi in his embrace.

“Enough, you’re qualified.” Chen Min softly whispered into Xiao Yi’s ear.

“Is that so?” the tired Xiao Yi laughed with a pale face. Suddenly, she bit Chen Min’s shoulder. She bit so hard that even his clothes were torn and her white teeth sank into his flesh.

“Correction, you’re not qualified, you’re excellent.” Chen Min’s two hands pinched the back of Xiao Yi’s neck. At that moment, the crazy Xiao Yi finally felt her body go limp, and was subdued.

5 minutes later, in the old apartment’s balcony, there was sawdust in the background. Xiao Yi sat on a concrete block with her hands tied. Chen Min just sat in front of her. He grabbed the shoe on Xiao Yi's right leg, which was cramping, and took it off. Then, he seriously massaged it. His hand was more professional than that of police instructors, it was also more gentle.

"I want to start up a bodyguard agency. Later on, there will inevitably be danger. I can't protect the client while taking into account your safety at the same time. So, I had to test your skills. You were even more excellent than I expected. Be it physical capabilities, marksmanship or close combat skill, they are all something that women lack." Chen Min spoke calmly. It was as if he was talking about what he ate for dinner.

"Come, come, come! Untie this rope for me, I'll let you experience this lady's tyrannical nutcracker leg[8]! Ah! It hurts! Be more gentle!" while Xiao Yi was yelling, Chen Min exerted force and pulled her muscle. The young woman could not help but cry out with her face blushing red.

"I've already seen enough. Of course, aside from these basic factors, I like how dedicated you are to your mission even more. Even towards the end, you did not give up the will to resist. You are qualified to be my assistant." Chen Min stood up while smiling.

"I'm your observer. Who said that I wanted to be your assistant?" Xiao Yi said while moving her ankle. The cramp was already gone.

"I am a man that is destined to become a bodyguard. How can you observe me without being my assistant?" Chen Min's abnormal logic was very hard to refuse.

"Your world is twisted. I can't be bothered arguing with your logic. It's not that I want to pour cold water on your plans, but your biggest competitor is 110[9]. It's up 24/7, and available on demand. From lost keys to kidnappings, they handle all cases[11]. Jobs like being a bodyguard are just not suitable for China[10].

"Doesn't matter. In this world there are some things that the police can't do, but bodyguards can." Chen Min untied Xiao Yi's bindings, and re-assembled Xiao Yi's handgun before returning it to her.

Xiao Yi endured the urge to blow off Chen Min's head, and placed the handgun inside the holster at the back of her waist.

"Come on, I'll bring you to see the first job I picked." Chen Min acted mysteriously as he dragged Xiao Yi to the edge of the balcony. Opposite them, was a large electric screen[12]. The news being broadcast on it was 《Famous Singer, Dream Jade, receives threatening letters》.

"No way! Recently, Dream Jade has been hot[13]. How do you plan on becoming her bodyguard?" Xiao Yi wrinkled her eyebrows as she said.

"So long as I wish it, she will be my client." As Chen Min was shamelessly laughing, he peeped at Xiao Yi who was in her underwear next to him. "Anyway, do you feel cold?"

Hearing Chen Min say this, Xiao Yi immediately lowered her head and blushed. It turns out that all along, she was in her underwear, and her white rabbits[14] were half exposed. She hugged her chest and said while glaring at Chen Min, "You bastard, this is all your fault!"

"It's getting cold, let's go home" Chen Min placed his jacket over Xiao Yi's shoulders, then put his hands in his pockets and walked towards the balcony's exit.

"Chen Min," looking at the figure of this man's solid back, Xiao Yi called out.

"What?"

"Next time, if you dare toy with me like this again, I swear I will blow off your head."

"Wait till the time when you beat me to death, then talk. My 'thorny rose'," Chen Min laughed masochistically.

Chapter 5 - Sniping an agent

Early in the morning, Xiao Yi was woken up by the sound of someone knocking on the door. She took a look at the time. It wasn't even seven, and Chen Min was knocking on the door incessantly like an evil spirit[1].

"Youngest aunt~, youngest aunt~, hurry up and wake up~. We're opening for business today~," Chen Min said[2].

"Open your little sister! Funeral [3]!" Xiao Yi unhappily opened the door. Thanks to Chen Min's bullshit last night, Xiao Yi's entire body was hurting so badly that it felt like she was being torn apart. Even getting out of bed took a long time and a lot of effort. The hand, holding the door, was trembling.

"Don't be angry. I have a present for you. Take it as my apology." Chen Min mysteriously took out a high quality shoulderless lace dress from behind his back.

"A GUCCI dress?" Xiao Yi was so surprised that she forgot her anger. She took the dress and glanced at the price tag, it cost 18000, not 18000¥ [4], but $18000. Written on it were foreign words, and it didn't look like local goods. "Where did you get this from?"

"A long time ago, I went to France to carry out a mission, someone had asked me to bring it back. But, later on, we stopped talking. Maybe she died?" Chen Min said casually.

You're using a dead person's clothes as a present?" Xiao Yi said while frowning.

"You haven't even worn it. If you don't want it, then give it back." Chen Min acted as if he was about to snatch it, but Xiao Yi had already hid it behind her back.

"Why wouldn't I want it? You caused me so much suffering last night, this is something you should do!" Xiao Yi closed the door while sticking her tongue out. Then, she happily changed into the new clothes.

"Women..... Sure enough, they all like the same things." Chen Min helplessly sighed.

Right, women were all the same. Women that didn't like branded goods were not people who were proud and aloof, it was just that they couldn't afford one[5]. Anyway, Xiao Yi felt that she wouldn't be able to buy the foreign dress in front of her within her lifetime. Even after joining the special forces, her wages would barely be on the level of white-collar workers. An $18000 dress would cost 120000¥! Even if she didn't eat or drink, she would still need two years before she could afford dresses like the one in front of her.

Xiao Yi swallowed her saliva while carefully getting into the foreign dress. She didn't know if whether or not it was purely psychological, but why was it that wearing branded goods felt so comfortable? Feeling every inch of that cloth against her skin, she found it even more splendid[6].

The shoulderless, black one-piece dress only covered one-third of her legs. Her 105cm long legs were almost completely exposed, it was extremely tempting. As she looked in the mirror, Xiao Yi blushed and felt her heart jump.

Embarrassedly, she put on her only pair of high-heeled shoes and went downstairs in small choppy strides.

Chen Min, who was in the living room, had changed into a suit. He looked like a gentleman as he stood there waiting for Xiao Yi to arrive.

"Do I...do I look good? Isn't this dress a bit short?" Xiao Yi embarrassedly pulled the skirt down, hoping to cover up more of her long legs. However, due to the design of the one-piece dress, as soon she took care of the bottom, the shoulderless top would cause the edges of her underwear to be exposed. As a result, she anxiously pulled it up again. This pulling up and down several tens of times almost made Chen Min get a nosebleed.

"Just like this, perfect!" Chen Min gave a thumbs up and said, "It's already late. I've booked a high-class hotel, we should go now."

"What do you think you're doing? Are you really opening for business[6]? I'm warning you, even if I'm your assistant, don't think that you can use those unspoken rules[16] on me. Believe it or not, I'll immediately blow your head off as soon as you do." Xiao Yi vigilantly opened a small hand bag and skillfully took out her handgun.

"Little aunt, the hotel isn't just for "pa, pa, pa[7]" okay? We can also eat there. Let's go, I'll treat you to a good meal, take it as my apology." Chen Min laughed as he grabbed Xiao Yi and dragged her out the door.

This whole day, Xiao Yi constantly felt that the method of opening the copy was wrong[8]. Chen Min Suddenly became a good gentleman. Not only did he proactively be the driver, he even opened the car door for her and passed her tissue paper. He was also extremely attentive and caring, taking care of everything, down to the smallest detail.

The high class restaurant that Chen Min had talked about was unexpectedly Lin Hai City's[9] only six-star hotel, "Ao Guan Hai", and laid at Lin Hai City's most beautiful beach. Xiao Yi's colleagues in the police station once called this place "one night gone" as a joke. It referred to how with one night in a standard room, an entire month's salary would be gone.

As for eating a meal of western food here, even if one was only half full, it could be called a major hemorrhage. The way Chen Min held Xiao Yi was as calm as most of the wealthy second generation that frequently came here. He walked directly towards Ao Guan Hai's restaurant, and found a seat by a window.

Because it just so happened to be breakfast time, the restaurant was full of people. The men, apart from children, instinctively stared at the beautiful Xiao Yi. So much that Xiao Yi felt some embarrassment.

Within these people, a middle aged man, wearing gold rimmed glasses, who was quietly sitting in a corner, also turned his head and looked. His eyes were full of amazement and appreciation.

Chen Min spoke to the waitress in English and ordered two 388¥ breakfast sets. Seeing the prices, Xiao Yi couldn't help but take in a breath of cold air, "One serving of fried egg[10] costs almost 60¥, do they use tea eggs imported from Taiwan or something?

"Stop being so petty, it's not like you're paying." Chen Min said while using the warm pre-meal towels[11] to wipe his hands.

"I'm worried for you. You shouldn't have much money, right?" Xiao Yi said while carrying a glass of water.

"After this meal, I will still have just about 20¢ left." Chen Min said. His indifferent tone made Xiao Yi almost choke.

"You have problems! You have no money, and you still want to act generous. I'm not eating anymore. Let's go home." Xiao Yi got up to leave.

"Don't mess around[12]. Have you noticed the man 45° behind me? The one wearing gold rimmed glasses, bright yellow clothes, and checkered pants." When Chen Min entered the restaurant, he had inadvertently glanced around and had already engraved the attires as well as the appearances of everyone there into his mind. This was a talent he had honed for the sake of killing people.

"What is it?" Xiao Yi looked over. That man unexpectedly raised the wine glass in his hand and motioned at her. Such a frivolous action, when done by that middle-aged man, appeared exceptionally refined.

"He is Dream Jade's[13] agent, Wu Neng![14] In the entertainment industry[15], he has been a first class scout for 20 years and has made many celebrities red[16]. 3 years ago, he accepted a job as Dream Jade's agent. From then on, he has never made a comeback[17]. What we're going to do now is "entrapment[18]", and have him take the bait." Chen

Min quietly said.

"How do we fish?" As soon as Xiao Yi said that, she immediately understood. "Motherfucker[19], you're using me as the bait aren't you?"

"Wu Neng isn't the average small fish. Plenty of female celebrities are anxious to use those unspoken rules[20] on him, but very few are able to make it into his eyes." Chen Min said while using a stainless steel soup spoon to look at his prey. "He seems to like you a lot, there could be some developments between the two of you."

"If you dare to let me sleep with him, you are going to die." Xiao Yi's eyes glinted with a fierce light as she spoke.

"Don't worry, if you sleep with someone it'll be me, this kind of good thing, how can I let him have it? It's just that I want to fish myself a meal. "Carelessly" talk about Dream Jade getting threatened, then "carelessly" state that I am a bodyguard. Such a perfect plan!" Chen Min laughed, causing Xiao Yi to get goosebumps and a sense of foreboding.

The sumptuous breakfast dishes arrived one after the other. At this moment, the restaurant's manager personally sent over a bottle of imported red wine.

"We didn't order this, did we?" Xiao Yi wondered.

"Respected young lady and sir, this red wine is a gift by Mr. Wu over there. Please, have a taste." The manager, who was exactly like a British waiter, opened the bottle of red wine. Then, he poured half a glass for Chen Min and Xiao Yi.

"Alright, now say "eggplant[21]" with me." Chen Min signaled to Xiao Yi while reaching for the glass. Then, he turned his head towards Wu Neng with a fake smile and lifted it in thanks. This was counted as being acquainted.

As expected, not long after having started their meal, Wu Neng, who was carrying a wine glass, walked over. "Hello you two, was the red wine to your liking?"

"A young Château Cheval Blanc, compared to Château Lafite Rothschild from 82 is a bit lacking. Mr. Wu Neng is rather stingy."

"Oh? Sir knows me?" Wu Neng said with surprise.

"You're a famous first class agent, who doesn't know you? Even though you[22] are very low key, but being a bodyguard, I should know the face of every single famous person." Chen Min's so called "accidentally" already became deliberately, "If you don't mind, why don't you sit down and drink a glass together?"

"Seems like today, you two came here just for me. You even specially made an unpolished jade of the entertainment industry[23] come to entice me. To continue shirking away would be pretentious[24]." Wu Neng was also had quite the demeanour. Just like this, he sat at Xiao Yi's side. Still smiling, he handed a business card to Xiao Yi, "I don't care what relationship he has with you, I just like to unearth beautiful potential. If you want to become a celebrity, please call the number on top and look for me.”

“Mr. Wu Neng, it’s hard to find a good assistant nowadays. Just do me a favour and don’t dig up my people[25].” Chen Min said while savouring the red wine, “I heard that recently you ran into some trouble?”

“Are you talking about meeting you?” Wu Neng answered back sarcastically. To be able to pinpoint his whereabouts meant that the man in front of him was not simple. Wu Neng braced himself 120%[26].

“Mr. Wu Neng must be joking. What I’m talking about is Ms. Dream Jade receiving threatening letters.”

“A public figure receiving some threatening letters is a small matter that occasionally happens. I’ve been in the business for so long, whether or not it’s strange is something I would see early on. It’s just that my house’s[27] Dream Jade is a bit timid, so the paparazzi were able to say these things. I’ve troubled you.”

“What I meant to say was, are you interested in hiring a bodyguard? Although I’m the best in this field, I just started business. So I can give you a discount.” Chen Min’s arrogant appearance made it seem as if he was accepting a job that someone begged him to take[28], and was full of provocation.

Feeling somewhat nervous, Xiao Yi simply didn’t input anything into the conversation. She could only lower her head and drink her soup.

“It’s nothing, I’ve already bought a dog for my house’s, Dream Jade. We shouldn't need to make use of you." Wu Neng too said with hostility[29].

Right at this moment, Chen Min suddenly kicked Xiao Yi's leg under the table. Only the entire bowl of soup in front of Xiao Yi spill onto Wu Neng's crotch area with "hua la" could be seen. It was so hot that his face became red[30].

"You, look at you! So careless. Quickly wipe!" Chen Min nervously handed Xiao Yi a pile of tissue paper.

"Sorry! Sorry!" Swallowing her grievance, Xiao Yi could only lower her head and wipe the spilt soup for Wu Neng. Suddenly the "kacha" sound of someone taking a picture could be heard. Both Wu Neng and Xiao Yi immediately noticed that something was wrong, and looked at Chen Min, who was opposite them and raising his phone.

"Famous agent not moral in the least[31], getting a blowjob from a beautiful woman in public place. Do you think that this title can get me a job as a bodyguard?"

From the photo, one could see, Wu Neng enjoyably sitting there. And on the table, it just so happened that one could see Xiao Yi's back hair. This coincidentally verified Chen Min's headline.

"People who frame me, normally don't have a good end." A cold light flashed in Wu Neng's eyes.

"Doesn't matter, I'm exactly this sort of destined to not have "a good end" type of man." Chen Min straight-up laughed like a devil.

Chapter 6 - The Most Troublesome Celebrity

To Xiao Yi, everything that had happened was like a Cinderella story. Just half an hour ago, she had been at a six star hotel savouring high-grade red wine while wearing a 120000¥ foreign dress, attracting countless gazes. But now, she had already changed back into a discounted singlet[1] from the night market, denim shorts that had been washed until they were white, and faded new balance[2] sports shoes. She was sitting next to the window in a KFC, drinking her second cup of half-priced apple flavoured soda.

Even though she still attracted the eyes of many men[3], but looking at those dicks ripping apart the chicken then licking the flavour off their fingers, Xiao Yi couldn't bear to watch anymore.

On the contrary, Chen Min and Wu Neng, these two best friends, hit it off well[4]. They talked all the way to Lin Hai Mall, and after sitting down, still talked nonstop. They were bargaining over the most basic things. In the end, Wu Neng compromised. He sighed while inspecting a contract that he had already signed before, pushing it in front of Chen Min.

"Like we agreed on, you will guard for 7 days, until the end of the 《China's Wonderful Sound》 that Dream Jade will be participating in. During this period, your Chen family's bodyguard service will provide free 24 hour protection. If anything happens to my house's Dream Jade, your firm will have to, according to the insurance company, pay the insured sum of 10 million as compensation.

If you get through the protection time smoothly, my firm promises to say the name of your bodyguard service during a mid-sized interview, and show our gratitude, for no more than 5 seconds. This will act as your firm's payment." What Wu Neng said shouldn't be called cooperation and was no different than a contract to sell oneself. However, Chen Min didn't even spare it a glance and signed his name on it without any hesitation. What he wanted was fame. This was commonly known as hugging a large leg[5].

"Can you bring me to see the client now?" Chen Min instantly went into work mode.

"Don't be anxious. She still has 10 minutes to get here." Wu Neng leaned against the wooden chair and took a glance at the Rolex on his hand. "Ever since participating in 《China's Wonderful Sound》, my house's Dream Jade didn't have any rest for 3 months. So, I gave her a break today. She'll be coming here to shop." Wu Neng also relaxed.

"Forgive me for my presumptuousness, but, at this critical period, you let her go off on her own..... Are you really considered a qualified agent?" Chen Min said scornfully.

"How long have you known her for? I've already been with her for 3 years and still can't handle this little girl. 4 years ago, from when she was 18 years old, Dream Jade had the identity of most 《Cocky Girl[6]》, the original《Snow Buries the Flower[7]》, making her famous from north to south. Hence, only through numerous hardships[8], did I become her agent."

"I have never judged anyone wrongly. She is just that kind of unpolished jade that has a diva's temperament. However, recently, she has made me feel disappointed. Except for the first year's results, starting from the second year, she was surrounded by a constant stream of bad publicity. No matter how I taught her self-control, she just didn't listen. Until she caused those three little incidents in Hong Kong. Two years ago, she was frozen by the company, and I've been just as miserable to this day."

"If I from start to finish hadn't exploited my connections and used backdoors, as well as obstinately made Dream Jade participate in 《China's Wonderful Sound》, would you be interested enough to make a beautiful woman come fuck[9] me?" Wu Neng, full of arrogance and contempt, said to Chen Min, "Brat, Wu Entertainment is more complex than you think. Risk and benefit come at the same time. Sometimes, for a chance, you have to sleep with someone. Other times, you have to play with your own life."

"I won't fuss about you fucking me, because your kind of willingness to do anything for the sake of success, is just like me back in the day."

"Planning on making me your godson?" Chen Min laughed.

"To godsons, I have no interest. Goddaughters are still okay." Wu Neng looked at Xiao Yi who was next to Chen Min as he spoke. His eyes had a kind of desire. It wasn't lust, but rather the ambition to make an unpolished jade shine that came with the job.

Unknowingly, 10 minutes had already passed. Outside KFC's window, a girl wearing a cap and carrying a primary school student's backpack, pushing the revolving door, entered Lin Hai Mall.

She was no taller than 155 cm and wore Converse flat shoes, black stockings that reached up to her knees, a baggy demin skirt, as well as a large hip-hop style T-shirt with a 5-pointed yellow star[10] printed on the chest area. On her face was a pair of sunglasses that covered half her face. On her right wrist was a large black bracelet. She made people feel that she was soft spoken, had a flexible body, and was easy to push down.

Who could have thought that this little loli, who was wearing apparel worth almost 600¥, was actually the popular singer Dream Jade.

Standing in front of the door, Dream Jade opened up her arms and took a deep, big breath. This was the smell of freedom. Unrestrained shopping was a girl's greatest motivation in life.

What damn practice and recorded interviews? They can all go to hell! Dream Jade directly went to the basement, which was filled with the most people. There, the entire underground women's shopping district was made out of cubicles. It was a feast for the eyes, everything was sold there and the prices were cheap. It was very well liked by the public, so on rest days like this, it was basically overcrowded.

"She unexpectedly went to a place filled with so many people, this is simply fooling around." Chen Min immediately stood up while pulling Xiao Yi, "Move, it's time to get to work."

Seeing this bodyguard get to work, Wu Neng had a leisurely appearance, and continued to enjoy his one day holiday.

"Boss, can this be a bit cheaper?" Inside the crowded underground women's shopping district, Dream Jade squeezed into a shop that sold crystal hairpins. There, she faced the fat female shopkeeper, acted cute(卖萌), and started bargaining.

"This is just a small business, we do not bargain." The fat shopkeeper was full of hostility towards skinny people since birth. She ate her chicken thigh and rice while saying coldly.

"320, just make it 20 cheaper. Give me the joy of bargaining okay(给我一点还价的快感好不好嘛)?" Dream Jade tilted her head and pleaded.

"This is just a small business, we do not bargain." The fat storekeeper was like a walkman.

"Then how about this? Don't tell anyone else, I'll give you an autograph, just make it 20 cheaper?" Dream Jade glanced around like a thief. Outside the store, there were quite a few people moving about, however, there was no other customer inside.

"Autograph? Are you a celebrity?" Only then did the fat shopkeeper look at the girl wearing a cap and large sunglasses.

"I could be counted as one. Hello, my name is Dream Jade." Dream Jade laughed as she took off her sunglasses. For the sake of enjoying the thrill of a bargain, this little bit of face, just sell it!(这张小脸卖就卖了吧！)

The fat shopkeeper blinked her small, sesame-like eyes, looked at the Dream Jade in front of her, and was stunned. Suddenly, she threw away the lunch box in her hands and exclaimed in a Susan Boyle voice, "Ah!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Dream Jade visited my store!!!!!!!!!!!! Ah!!! A big celebrity came to my store!!!!!!!!!!!!!"

The barrage of screams startled Dream Jade, and she immediately put on her sunglasses then signaled to the fat shopkeeper "hush". However, who would have thought that the fat shopkeeper had such great vital capacity[12]. Even after shouting nonstop for 30 seconds, she still wasn't out of breath. If she participated in 《China's Wonderful Sound》, she'd probably be even more popular than Dream Jade, huh?

Followed by the sound of a pig getting slaughtered, the entrance to the fat shopkeeper's store was immediately surrounded by people wanting to see what the commotion was about.

"You weren't honest at all! I'll never buy anything from here again! This place is horrible! Absolutely horrible[13]!" Dream Jade put down the hairpin, and without waiting for everyone's reaction had already escaped by squeezing past the crowd.

"She.....She's Dream Jade!" The fat shopkeeper finally took a breath. That one sentence made the crowd outside the store extremely excited.

Dream Jade?! Currently, she was the most popular female singer. In an online vote about "which female celebrity you wanted to fuck most", she gained 2nd place(1st was Fourth Lady). The news of her being in the women's shopping district spread around like someone had thrown a bomb there. At that moment, everyone became crazed fans, shouting "Dream Jade's" name, they joined the large army chasing the star[14].

"Dead! I'm so dead! When Wu Neng finds out, he's gonna scold me to death!" Dream Jade swung her arms as she ran away. Unfortunately, no matter what she did, her short, slender legs could not run fast, so the people chasing her became more and more as time went on. Suddenly, an arm reached out from the side, and like an eagle catching a chicken, dragged her into a small room.

"You!" Before Dream Jade could react, she had already been held against a wall by a robust body, and her mouth was covered. The panicked Dream Jade wanted to resist, but the man in front of her was like an iron pagoda and could not be moved.

Right at this moment, the wave of people chasing her arrived outside the room. Unexpectedly, they did not check it at all, and just ran past it. Only then did Dream Jade notice the smell of urine, and the urinals on the wall. Dream Jade immediately understood that the space around her body was the Men's room mentioned in legends.

Dream Jade dared to ask herself, in her life, just how many places she had been to? It was uncountable[15]. However, it was her first time being inside the Men's room. And yet she did feel inexplicably moved. It was just that that feeling was actually nausea and a need to vomit. All men actually stood in front of that disgusting thing and pissed. The liquid that leaked to the floor still hadn't dried! It really was just too disgusting!

"Listen to me, I'm a bodyguard that Wu Neng hired specifically to ensure your safety. If you don't want to sign autographs until your fingers break, listen to my arrangements." Chen Min showed the contract that he and Wu Meng signed while letting go of Dream Jade's palm.

"Thanks for helping me just now." After Dream Jade sorted out up her clothes, she smiled and said, "You are the first bodyguard to bring me to visit the men's room. As a form of encouragement, you've been fired. Not even 5 cents will be given to you. Bastard."

Right at that moment, from outside the men's room, a bunch of footsteps could be heard. To begin with, Chen Min did not care whether or Dream Jade was willing, dragging her, they had already hid inside a toilet cubicle. Dream Jade originally wanted to resist, but then she heard what was happening outside the thin cubicle walls. Two dicks had already walked in while laughing.

"Holy fuck, did you hear? Dream Jade is here! Someone said that they saw her!" following the sound of pissing, Dick A exclaimed.

"It's probably just some pulling of chicken feathers[16]. How is it possible? But speaking of this, I kind of feel that she is extremely cute. Yesterday night, I masturbated to her picture!" Dick B said.

"He he, what a coincidence, me too." Dick A said with a grin.

Right at this moment, who knew which one of Dream Jade's nerves were pulled[17], in an instant, she charged out of the cubicle, stood behind the two dicks, placed her hands at her waist and whistled, "Hey!"

两男屌也呆萌的可以，居然面对面的转过身来，手上的那话儿跟着一起转体90度，都尿到了基友的裤子上。

The two male dicks, who were also passably cute, unexpectedly turned around face to face, the thing in their hands turned 90° as well, and pissed on their gay friend's pants.

Dream Jade couldn't stand this should be censored scene, and said with a headache, "You two damn perverts, didn't you like to masturbate to my picture? Well, this miss is right here! Masturbate for me to see!"

When had the two dicks ever encountered this type of situation? Forget about masturbating at a goddess, even speaking two more sentences to a goddess would make them tremble. Facing Dream Jade, this kind of superstar level goddess, they were almost scared into impotence.

"I finally understand why Wu Neng can't sort out this little girl. She's too naughty....." Chen Min took out a roll of duct tape from his bosom with a sigh and walked towards the two dicks. "Sorry, I'm going to have to wrong you guys....."

Chapter 7 - War in the Men's Room

TL note:

plenty and I mean plenty of BDSM references. It's also suggestive as fuck.

"Xiao Yi, where are you?"

"I should be the one asking you that. I went to the lady's room for a moment and you're already gone without a trace. Are you planning on having another test?"

"How's the situation outside right now?"

"Have you seen the fire station's ticket office right before the spring festival? It's more or less like that. Also, those who have received the news are rushing over. I've already seen reporters carrying SLRs. Every exit is completely surrounded by people, there's no way out."

"Don't worry about that for now, and do what I say. First, come to men's room at B3."

"Men's room? You really know how to hide. Wait for me. Fuck, there really are a lot of people here. Just now, a brat stroked my ass and had his finger dislocated by me."

Currently, inside the men's room, the two dicks had already been wrapped in tape to the point where they looked like mummies, and thrown in a corner. Dream Jade placed two autographed photos into their bosoms, "this is compensation for the terror you two received. Of course, if you two dare to take out those pictures signed by me to do that disgusting thing, I'll let the bodyguard behind me do some S&M[1] stuff with you. Keep this a secret, but he's gay and loves chrysanthemum flowers[2] the most!"

The two dicks were scared so badly that they started crying. One must know that even their pants weren't completely worn, and piss was still leaking out!

"By the way, how did you get that stubborn uncle to hire you?" After dealing with that, Dream Jade turned around, "he straight up said: bodyguards aren't as good as dogs. Most celebrities were ruined by bodyguards, drivers, and assistants.; So, I've never had a fixed driver and assistant. He has also never been willing to employ a bodyguard for me."

"Very simple, this is because I'm outstanding enough," Chen Min said with a smile.

"Don't blame me for being direct, but you, this kind of average appearance, no brawn no brain bodyguard, is destined to have a hard time getting any achievements in this line of work. Also, in the first meeting, you pulled your client into the men's room, it's clear that your character is immoral. Most of the people who hire you will also fire you because of your simple and coarse protection." Dream Jade's two hands were at her waist, and she spoke straightforwardly with a venomous tongue. "But, this miss is kind-hearted and will give you one chance to prove yourself. If you can successfully get me out of here without being spotted by those crazed fans, I will make an exception and permit you to follow me.”

“He he, you[3] are really polite(客气).” Chen Min smiled until his face was stiff. He himself was suspecting that this first job was chosen too casually.

After 5 minutes, Xiao Yi had already arrived in front of that men’s room. Following Chen Min’s orders she placed an prepared “under maintenance” sign at the door.

When Xiao Yi came in to take a look, good guy! There were more people squatting in the men’s room than there were queuing up outside the lady’s room; Over ten old grandpas were wrapped up into dumplings by duct tape, and all of them had a signed photograph hidden in their bosoms.

“Chen Min? What are you doing?” Xiao Yi called out.

“Do you two know each other? Scared me to death, and here I thought you were going to have another bondage performance[4].” Dream Jade pat her chest and said.

“I’m also out of tape. That last fat ass that came in, wasted quite a bit.” Chen Min stared at that 100kg[5] meatball squatting right at the front, then sighed and threw away the paper tube in his hand, “Time is limited. Now, we’re going to execute plan B. Xiao Yi, I need you and Dream Jade to swap clothes.”

The two girls obediently entered a cubicle and hurriedly swapped clothes.

"Xiao Yi was it? By the way, is your chest bigger than mine? C cup right? They're really elastic!" Dream Jade was still direct.

"Stop pinching! They're really sensitive! Don't you have them too? Their just small enough to be held with a single hand." Xiao Yi and Dream Jade were frank and saw eye to eye[6]. In an instant, they became intimate sisters.

When the old grandpas outside heard their erotic talk, half of them blushed, whereas the other half grinned. But one thing they were all united on was that their crotches stood up. Even Chen Min, who was leaning against the wall, set up a tent.

After another 5 minutes, the girls who had finished swapping clothes, walked out. There was a 13cm difference between their heights. So, when Dream Jade wore the singlet, it literally became a hip-hop halter top, and the tight hotpants became baggy denim shorts. However, the bracelet on her hand was not swapped. Maybe it held some special meaning to her?

The clothes mostly did not have any problems. The small clothes made Xiao Yi feel extremely uncomfortable. The hip-hop shirt became twin peaks piercing clouds due to her 32C chest, and the denim skirt just became tight shorts. From behind, a bit of her butt could be seen.

"En, looks really good to me." Chen Min sincerely commented. The more than ten men sitting at the side also neatly nodded their heads in praise.

"Good, your sister! I'm about to be squeezed to death!" Xiao Yi constantly pulled at the edge of her jeans, causing the bit of ass sticking out to be hidden.

"The plan starts now." Chen Min seriously said.

Xiao Yi, wearing Dream Jade's clothes, hat and sunglasses, first took a single step out of the men's room. While the crazed fans by the side were surprised at why a girl would come out of the men's room, Chen Min jumped out from inside and shouted, "Dream Jade! She's Dream Jade!"

This shout was like a small spark that set fire to the prairie, once sent out, it could not be retrieved. All the crazed fans rushed to catch up while shrieking and cheering. Xiao Yi once more showcased her talent in athletics as she ran with all her strength.

Under the cover of the turbulent flow of people, Chen Min put his arms around his petite, cute "lover" then walked out of the men's room and towards the staircase that led beneath the women's shopping district.

During this time, there were also some people who took notice of these lovers. However, as soon as someone saw them, Chen Min would purposefully hug even tighter, he snuggled her to the point where his face was almost going to stick to her. He completely lacked the tension and apprehension of the person in his embrace being a celebrity.

Dream Jade's face was stuck to the side of Chen Min's chest. Through the thin shirt, she could feel his distinct, iron-like muscles. The strange walking posture made it so that she had no way of seeing the road. Instead, her eyes saw the hideous wounds on Chen Min's body through the gap between the buttons of his shirt.

His arm was like a bulletproof vest as it tightly hugged her flank, strongly warding off the sweeping glances of the pedestrians next to them. Dream Jade felt like his embrace was the safest place in the world, and a red glow like that from the sun appeared on her face.

Just like that, they left Lin Hai Mall, and a black nanny van rapidly stopped in front of them.

"Get in." Wu Neng pulled open the van door, and invited the "lovers" on board. The van followed the road around Lin Hai Mall and went to the carpark behind it. With her clothes almost torn off, Xiao Yi, whose hair was messy, stood there with her hands at her waist, and an unhappy expression on her face.

声东击西之计到最后肖仪都说了自己不是梦琪，一群男粉丝还是趁乱拉扯着她的衣服。把肖仪逼急了，抓住其中一个摸向自己胸口的男屌就是一个过肩摔，手臂都给扭脱臼了，场面才被震了下来，顺利脱身。

In the end, Xiao Yi even said that she was not Dream Jade and that everything was a diversionary plan, but a group of male fans still took advantage of the chaos to pull her clothes. This made Xiao Yi distressed, so she grabbed who was reaching towards her chest and gave him a shoulder toss, dislocating his shoulder.

"Chen Min, fuck you for making me run continuously, two days in a row." When Xiao Yi was getting into the van, her calf was shivering. She had obviously gone through another nightmare.

"Big sis Xiao Yi, don't be angry, I'll cut his pay." Dream Jade, who was already calling her big sis, had a natural hostility towards men but a particular intimacy with women. Could it be that she was a “lesbian[7]”?

“He he, from the start, we weren’t getting paid half a 10¢, just meals.” Xiao Yi felt that she was mixed too badly already.

“Enough nonsense. Dream Jade, the director just called, said that the stage for the finals is ready and wants us to head over to take a look. Quick Mouth Hua is also there. While we’re there we can discuss how the finals will proceed(顺带交流一下决赛的流程).” Wu Neng once again returned to his gold class agent work mode.

“Ah? Wasn’t it agreed that today would be a day off?” Dream Jade said in a wronged manner with puppy-dog eyes.

“Want another “The Great Escape” in the mall(商场大逃亡)?” Wu Neng instantly transformed into a strict military instructor and said. “It’s not that I’m scolding you, but towards the finals, you’re too unconcerned. Until today you still haven’t decided the last song. Your opponent, Green Tea, has already decided to sing the song that made Michael Jackson famous, 《Bille Jean》. The team of choreographers are all professionals directly hired from USA, and there are even some who have worked with Michael Jackson. They are really strong.”

“I too know that time is short, but the songs that were corrected by the songwriter that uncle found, are too disgusting. Some unexpectedly need me to be like those 卖腿女团[8] from Korea and 跳劈叉舞[9]!” Dream Jade sighed while giving puppy-dog eyes. “Why not let me sing a self-written song instead? Anyhow I’ve been immersed for 2 years and have created quite a few works, which took me a lot of effort. I swear I will give my 100% best!”

“No way!” Wu Neng rebuffed, “How many times have I told you? Towards these kinds of big competitions, singing new songs is a taboo. Modifying choreography to sell legs and butt is the way of the king. It’s the fast-food era, who still has the mood to calm down and listen to slow songs?”

“To put it gently, of course it’s not having uncle sell his. I’m just a pair of A cups, a pair of short legs, and my butt still doesn’t have meat. How do you want me to sell?” Dream Jade said in a self-ridiculing manner, which made Xiao Yi amused.

Celebrities are so pressed for time, even an agreed upon rest could be cancelled just like that. Dream Jade, in the back row, just pulled up a screen and changed into a white one-piece dress and finally returned Xiao Yi’s clothes.

The nanny van went all the way into Lin Hai City’s biggest soccer stadium. This was precisely the place that was contracted for the finals of 《China’s Wonderful Sound》, and it could accommodate 20000+ cheering and shouting at the same time.

As soon as the car stopped, they immediately went to work. Wu Neng wanted to first get the stage directions from Quick Mouth Hua, so Xiao Yi then became an assistant. She was for moving the garbage and putting it in Dream Jade’s dressing room for now. As for Dream Jade and Chen Min, they first went around to check the stage set.

After passing through the long “employees only passageway”, Dream Jade impatiently went to the field. The almost completed stage was magnificently standing in the center of the field, and was practically beckoning for her. Dream Jade had already not been on such a large stage, singing in front of over ten thousand people, for a long time. Thinking back, it was 4 years ago, during the start of her career, that she held concerts. Later on, was a wave of bad press, rumours, disputes, getting frozen, there was a variety of unhappy stories.

“Do you think it’s beautiful?” Dream Jade stood at the exit, and stared at the stage with infatuation.

“A stage with a bunch of steel equipment on top, can it be described with the word beautiful?” Chen Min’s hands were in his pocket, looking at Dream Jade next to him, he really wanted to say: A Dream Jade that shows the smile of a happy young woman should be what’s really beautiful.

“How would you, this kind of rough person who is only able to fight, be able to understand the beauty of a stage? It’s like a prince’s white stallion or Cinderella’s glass slippers or an angel’s wings. It’s the stage that makes the celebrity. Every single stage has a life, only those walking up with a heart filled with awe, can sing the most moving melodies.” Dream Jade was saying as she was walking towards the stage. She stood at there, the center of the stage, as if she was summoned there, took off her shoes, spread out her arms, closed her eyes and spun around while smiling.

Chen Min just stood at the bottom of the stage, and became Dream Jade’s first audience member.....

Chapter 8 - Sponge VS Steel Plate

TL Notes :

Meng Qi has been changed to Dream Jade.

All previous mentions have been changed.

Character analysis by employer: Dream Jade is a headstrong, blunt, straightforward(venomous tongue), and delicate but unwilling to admit defeat, girl. On the other hand, she is very serious, and treats everything in life similarly. When it's time for rest, she seriously rests. When it's time for bargaining, she seriously bargains. When it's time for work, she seriously works. She likes singing as well as the stage, almost to the point of obsession.

Chen Min, who was at the foot of the stage, had recorded the analysis into his brain, in order to fit Dream Jade's personality, and offer a more suitable protection.

His father once said, the best bodyguard was not a steel board or a man of steel that can block all dangers a thousand miles away, but rather a sponge. A sponge can fit the employer's figure from left to right, and render all impact imperceptible. The best would be to, after fulfilling the contract, let the employer feel: you didn't do anything, why should you be paid? This would be the best.

However, sometimes, a steel board would be more likable, at least it looked way cooler.

A girl, bringing along a steel board bodyguard, swaggered[1] up to the front of the stage.

She was a tall 172cm with a caucasian's voluptuous butt. She was obviously asian but her body was tanned until it was bronze. Her makeup was exaggerated and glamorous. After removing it, she should also be a beautiful woman. It was just that Chen Min could easily see several traces of plastic surgery.

"Big sis is really impatient. The finals haven't even started yet. You came here so anxiously, thinking of trying the feeling of being a champion? Looking at this, I, your little sister, am so moved that tears are almost dropping." The girl pretentiously said.

"Green Tea, don't call me so familiarly. I don't remember having a little sister like you. The stage belongs to both of us, and the performance is for everyone to see. I'm just checking out the field beforehand. This is also being responsible towards the audience." As soon as Dream Jade saw Green Tea, she automatically entered an unhappy state, put on her shoe and jumped from the stage down towards the grass.

"To be able to call you big sis, it seems like I, Green Tea, have climbed up the social ladder. Come to think of it, what kind of person is big sis? A veteran that debuted 4 years ago. Even popular actor, Liang Jun, bowed before your chibi[2] skirt. Oh right, I forgot that back then it seemed like Liang Jun already had a wife and kids. Not good, not good. If that's the case, then esteemed elder sister, didn't you become a Xiao San? How did the newspapers phrase it that time? "History's Most Beautiful Xiao San prostitute". Listen, being a Xiao San is so gao da shang[3], how can us juniors compare?" Green Tea smiled as she purposely mocked Dream

Jade loudly. The surrounding staff all unconcernedly dodged far away.

They had already seen plenty of scheming and plotting between celebrities. However, they really didn't expect that Dream Jade, who was over half a head shorter than Green Tea, would actually dare to directly spit on Green Tea's face.

"You're a Xiao San! You're whole family's a Xiao San! Till today, I've, unlike you, forged my own path step by step. From head to toe, what's been given by your mom? A map that's undergone a complete plastic surgery!" Even though Dream Jade's body was small, she did not have the likeness of a small house's green jade when scolding people. She was incomparably aggressive, and every word was like a knife.

"You actually dare spit on me?! Monster Bear! Hit her for me!" Green Tea roared as her embarrassment turned into anger. She was so angry that her face turned green.

That 2 meter tall black bodyguard, standing behind her directly, stepped forward then used his hands, which were the size of cattail leaf fans, and slapped towards Dream Jade's small face.

Even though Dream Jade constantly quarrelled, she hadn't fought a single time yet. Don't even mention this kind of monster-like thing. At that moment, she was so scared that she was rooted in place and could only close her eyes.

But, in the instant that she was being attacked, Dream Jade's small hand was pulled from behind. Her entire body, as if it was boneless, fell backwards and into Chen Min's chest.

“My superstar, next time you see someone about to hit you, can you take the trouble to dodge? If you really get hit, your head might fly out~” Chen Min’s embrace was still so warm, just like a sheltered harbour, hiding within, even if there were ten typhoons, she would not be afraid.

“My great bodyguard, next time you see someone attack me, can you take the trouble to act sooner? If I really get hit, you will properly be fired.” Dream Jade also didn’t know whether it was fear that made her red, or getting hugged by the man in front of her that made her heart jump, and forced a calm retort.

As soon as the black man’s move missed, he was scolded by the Green Tea Slut, not right, should be Green Tea. Anyhow, he was also a bodyguard with an origin in the American Professional Wrestling League, how could he be humiliated by this little asian bodyguard? He just took off his suit jacket which was almost ripped open[4], and tore off the shirt with his bare hands, showing off a body full of muscles like that of a monster.

The 200 cm tall brawny black person was known as “Monster Bear” in the wrestling ring. His chest was even bigger than 39Fs and made people unable to help but think that those two points needed to be censored.

The roaring Monster Bear threw a straight jab towards the two people like a piledriver. However, he suddenly stopped before he hit his target.

“What are you stopping for? Useless piece of shit!” Green Tea, oblivious to what really had happened, called out. However, it wasn’t that Monster Bear consciously stopped attacking, but rather that Chen Min, who was hugging Dream Jade with one arm, used only a single finger to stand up to Monster Bear's huge fist.

It was the first time that Monster Bear met this kind of opponent. His arm was suffocated to the point where blue veins started to pop up. However, he still had no way to make the finger on his fist move in the least.

"You lose, take a step back, lest you get hurt." Chen Min gently pushed Dream Jade back 1m, took back his finger and ended the confrontation.

When he turned back, what he saw was a pair of dark female milk machines, nope, should've said pectoral muscles.

Although Chen Min, who was 175 cm tall, was also a muscular man, he still had a well-proportioned slim physique. If he didn't tear off his shirt, he would look just like a normal salaryman.

"Friend, women quarreling is a common matter. Don't get physical. Let's all be civilized bodyguards, alright?" Cheng Min faced Monster Bear's pectoral muscles as he spoke.

As for those jiggling pectoral muscles, it was as if they were saying, "fuck your uncle!"

Monster Bear, towards women, didn't stay his hands. Towards Chen Min, he wouldn't show any mercy at all. He once again brandished his fist and directly struck towards Chen Min's chest.

But right at that instant, the look in Chen Min's eyes changed. His killing intent actually made Monster Bear, who was taller than him by over a head, tremble involuntarily.

Everyone there was dumbstruck, Monster Bear, who weighed 115kg, was unexpectedly sent flying 2m in a single punch by Chen Min. Although he didn't collapse, Monster Bear was only able to stop himself from falling further after he hit the ground by taking 2 steps back.

One Inch Punch(寸勁)[5], a method of using strength unique to China's Wing Chun Style. It erupted with large amounts of power in an instant within a short range. The One Inch Punch(存拳)[5] that was popularised by international film star, Bruce Lee, originated from this. It was just that no matter how Bruce Lee lived, he couldn't strike harder than such a strong fist.

Chen Min's One Inch Punch(寸勁) made use of the entire body's, as many as 60 muscles, 14 joints, 37 ligaments, to bring out force. It was so strong that it could even leave a fist mark on a steel board. Hypothetically speaking, if Chen Min changed his fist into a knifehand and jabbed..... Monster Bear wouldn't even have the chance to be sent flying and would just be sent to another world.

The valiant Monster Bear calmed his nerves and roared, "Ah!" He aggressively wanted to battle once more. However, after walking a measly two steps forward, he immediately saw blackness and fell to his knees. He even puked out his last night's dinner. The field, apart from being very disgusting, was only very disgusting.

"Sure enough, I haven't fully adapted....." Chen Min took a deep breath as he returned to his usual posture. He had been on the battlefield, killing for too long, so he had already made it a habit to kill in one strike. Just now, even though he had held back in that punch, he still unintentionally exceeded what a normal person could handle. Good thing Monster Bear's body was a lot stronger than most. Otherwise, this guy would already be dead.

"Chen Min" right at this moment, Wu Neng as well as Xiao Yi rushed over and just barely caught the fight. Xiao Yi loudly yelled while her palm automatically reached towards the back of her waist. Wu Neng saw what she was reaching towards. It was a concealed gun. However, the experienced him didn't show any reaction.

Monster Bear was instantly killed by Chen Min's attack. Chen Min was so fast that it was no one could clearly see what he did. Green Tea's 30000¥ face showed an incomparably exaggerated expression that made one suspect that she underwent too much plastic surgery on her jaw bone, resulting in her lower jaw not being able to work.

Well, Monster Bear didn't die, he just vomited so much that his black face became white. Only after kneeling for a full 10mins, did he stand once more.

The organizers also rapidly rushed over and Quick Mouth Hua acted as the mediator. After arriving at the backstage break room, Quick Mouth Hua listened to the ins and outs of the event. Then, he said that both sides were in the wrong so they should just bury the hatchet[6]. This time, Green Tea was unwilling to do so. The one who got spit on was her, the one whose bodyguard was beat up was also her. And yet, Dream Jade actually wouldn't get punished at all. Green Tea wanted to flip out on the spot.

Wu Neng signaled to Green Tea to be quiet, then fished out his phone and made a call. He smiled, made some small talk and hung up in less than 10s. Right at that moment, Green Tea's phone also rang. After picking up the phone, her face turned green as it was her record company's CEO telling her to stop.

Even if she was harder, she must also know how to be soft. This was one of the entertainment industry's rules. Green Tea angrily brought Monster Bear along and walked out.

Dream Jade smiled like a flower as she softly whispered to Chen Min, "Look, Uncle is so mystical. No matter how big the problem, he can settle it."

"I now understand why you've never hired a bodyguard." Chen Min looked at Wu Neng with a trace of admiration.

Dad was wrong. A bodyguard's ultimate realm was not a sponge, but rather a "breeze" like Wu Neng. To be able to make all the clients problems disappear with only a few words, without using one's fist at all. To be able to sort out anything within 50km with just a single phone call. This could be described as powerful and capable[7].

Then, Quick Mouth Hua went over the final's proceedings in detail once more for Dream Jade. In the finals, 4 songs will be sung to decide the winner. 2 will be chosen by the singer and 1 by the opponent. The opponent will first be given 10 songs that you can sing. Then, they will choose of them one for you to sing.

The last song, which is also the most important song, would not be chosen by the judges, but rather by the audience in the stadium and the people in front of their TVs(sms) through a vote.

It was said that the company behind Green Tea, Flowstone Music, had already hired 5 million internet mercenaries and what's more, gave free tickets to the concert to Green Tea's fan group, all to obtain an overwhelming victory during the last song.

It was as if the whole world knew that Dream Jade couldn't win, even Wu Neng had joined them and put his thoughts and considerations into advertisement and money-earning events in the future. Only Dream Jade showed constant persistence towards the champion's throne.

Chapter 9 -You hurt me

TL Notes :

Xiao San Incident/Three Little Things Incident-> Mistress Incident

Xiao San literally is a slang for home wrecker in Chinese, which we just found out. Sorry for the mistranslation!

By the time Dream Jade had finished familiarizing herself with the staging, it was already 8 o'clock at night. The tired group of people once more rode the nanny van back to Dream Jade's high class villa in Lin Hai City's suburbs. This high-class residence was something only extremely rich people could live in. Even the bodyguards were professional retired soldiers.

"I want to go to the beach for a walk. Can I?" Dream Jade purposely asked Chen Min's opinion.

"I'm just a bodyguard. I don't have the qualifications to limit your movements." What Chen Min meant was, "Yes".

"That's good. Come walk with me." Dream Jade's hands were behind her back and she wore flip flops as she walked out of the house to the beach with a smile.

Currently, Xiao Yi was in front of the window, looking at the pair who were like a couple walking towards the beach, and giving her daily report on Chen Min to the superintendent. Even the case of him "beating up" Monster Bear was mentioned.

The Police Bureau obtained the recording of the incident, and ultimately deemed the incident as still being within reasonable self-defense. The upper echelons of the police force were gratified as they saw that Monster Bear was not killed, and instead was still alive. This incident showed that Chen Min was starting to adapt to the society's lifestyle and knew how to control his strength.

Xiao Yi was left speechless by this reply and couldn't imagine how Chen Min's past was like.

The bright moon was in the sky, with stars and clouds. Lin Hai City's night was so beautiful that it always made people have no mood to sleep. Complementing the heavens above, the white sandy beach beneath Chen Min and Dream Jade's feet, which was like their personal property, was beautiful and magnificent.

The high tide of the sea made a 'hua hua' sound, as it washed over the feet of two people. The water was cold, and it felt extremely comfortable. Sometimes, two tiny hermit crabs would be washed up and crawl up from the back of their legs. If one were to bend down, they would be able to pick it up and take it home as a pet.

Dream Jade loved the ocean. She strolled along the beach just like a kid. Chen Min would be silently trailing behind her, carrying his own leather shoes.

"Thank you for helping me deal with Green Tea today. Recently, she's been finding trouble with me, I hate her to death.” Dream Jade didn't turn back as she gently whispered along with the sound of the waves.

“I wasn’t helping you deal with anyone, I was just protecting you. In fact, it was you who made a move first, which increased the chances of unnecessary danger. Next time, don't do things like that again.” Chen Min, who started acting like a professional instructor once again, advised Dream Jade.

“Could you not always preach to me like a bodyguard?” Dream Jade turned around and furrowed her eyebrows. Rarely did she lower her position to thank someone, but Chen Min instead continued to provoke her.

“I was originally a bodyguard anyway. Even though this is a short-term employment, the Chen Family’s Bodyguard Service objective is to keep the employer safe, even after the service is completed. You are a celebrity, when you are in the limelight, it is very hard to avoid getting in danger. Therefore, you must learn how to protect yourself.” Chen Min continued advising Dream Jade.

“I’m just this small, it’s still okay for me to spit at people. Resisting? How do I resist?” Dream Jade deliberately quarreled with Chen Min.

“I’ll teach you.” Suddenly, Chen Min threw away the leather shoes in his hands and grabbed Dream Jade’s wrist. He pulled her and turned her, it was like a samba. Before she could react, Dream Jade was already pulled into his embrace with her back facing the chest she was leaning on. This was already the fourth time he embraced her today...

Merely, Dream Jade's hand was twisted behind her back. It was so painful that she called out, "Let go of me, pervert! It's painful!"

"This is the grappling technique's most basic moves, the 'Grab' and 'Hold'. You have a small body, so your opponents will love using this sort of technique against you. Because the joints in your hand are locked, there will be a persistent pain caused by the pulling of your tendons. This sort of pain will stimulate a person's natural instinct to give up resisting.

"You are a celebrity, it is hard for you to avoid people. Once you are captured, it is extremely possible for the area to be a confrontation zone between the kidnapper and other people. The possibility of the situation in front of you occurring is very high." When Chen Min was explaining, Dream Jade was in so much pain that even her tears were falling out. She was continuously cursing Chen Min, and it was impossible to tell whether she was even listening.

"The method for countering this technique is actually very simple. First, you need to remain calm and endure the pain. Next, you have to feel the height of the kidnapper with your back and find where his nose is. At the critical moment, you have to instantly burst out with strength using your heel, then tiptoe and smash your body backwards. No matter how fucking awesome[2] the kidnapper is, there is no way for him to toughen his nose. The back of a person's head is extremely hard. Even if you are a small person, this hit can result in severe injury towards the kidnapper's face." When Chen Min finished speaking, Dream Jade had already followed Chen Min's teaching and used force to smash her body backwards.

Not to mention Dream Jade having already practiced dancing, ballet stretching exercises had gotten her long since used to enduring pain. This, in addition to her foundation in dancing, made it so that jumping through an instantaneous burst of strength had also far surpassed the amount of strength her tiny body could produce.

Chen Min had 100 ways to counter countering techniques, but he didn't want to hurt Dream Jade, so he could only release her and borrow her strength to fall backwards. The two people intimately hugged each other as they fell on the beach.

A silver coloured wave washed over them, drenching the clothes of the two.

Dream Jade straddled on top of Chen Min's waist, her two hands were on his rock-like chest. The seawater on Chen Min's fringes dripped onto his face. As for the white one-piece dress, its back was so drenched that Dream Jade's snow white skin and cerise coloured underwear were revealed.[2]

God knows[3] which great person it was that once said, "A woman's cleavage can always be formed with a squeeze." Dream Jade, using this posture(A姿势), still managed to make her A-cup-sized chest show a beautiful arc.

"You've hurt[4] me, you know?" Dream Jade was drenched.

"I know."

"If you know, then why did you still do it?"

"Because I am a bodyguard, not a servant. Servants have to look at the master's mood and please the master, but bodyguards only have to do their best to protect the master." Chen Min laid on the damp beach, looking up at Dream Jade.

"Save it, you're just a cheaply-priced bodyguard that doesn't want money. Even janitors have higher salaries than you, what are you so serious for? Uncle originally found you to become free labour. To begin with, he doesn't even expect you to be able to protect me. He doesn't even believe that I have a need for a bodyguard." Dream Jade's habitual mocking was just used to cover up her accelerating heartbeat. Why is it that this man can turn a cold 'Occupational Declaration' into a heart moving speech?

"You are my employer, protecting you is my responsibility. This has nothing to do with money. During the contract period, even if God himself comes, he will not be able to touch half a strand of your hair." Chen Min said resolutely.

"Pa!" Dream Jade suddenly slapped Chen Min's face, while tears instantly fell from her eyes.

Obviously, Chen Min could have dodged the slap, but since Dream Jade's power was not enough to injure him, he just firmly received it.

"Never talk to me about responsibility again! You men are all not good things[5]! You only know how to use flowery language to trick women into sleeping with you! Bastard!" In Dream Jade's eyes, Chen Min's figure resembled many other men's, the familiar words and promises reopened her past wounds.

After slapping Chen Min, Dream Jade quickly got up and ran towards the villa completely drenched. On the beach was a pair of flip flops which she left behind.

11 o'clock at night, Chen Min gently knocked Dream Jade's room door.

"I'm tired, I want to sleep. If you have anything to say, say it tomorrow." Dream Jade was hugging her knees and sitting in front of the door[6].

"The seawater is cold, remember to get a hot bath before sleeping. If you get a fever, your body strength will be weakened, and it might affect the assignment." After finishing his sentence, Chen Min quietly left. His words never left the scope of his work, sometimes, he was as stiff as an emotionless machine.

"Idiot, I clearly said that I would never be moved by a man again....." Burying her forehead in her knee, Dream Jade scolded herself.

On the other side, Chen Min who had returned to his room hadn't gone to sleep and was instead surfing the net to collect all the past information about Dream Jade to perhaps find information about the sender of the threatening letters. From this, Chen Min was beginning to understand his first employer...

Dream Jade was not a singer that came out of a training program. In the third year of high school, when other students were knuckling down to study, she was already in bars singing.

In that same year, she participated in the《Cocky Girl》singing competition and became the champion. Since then, she led a different path compared to her peers, a path to stardom. After that, her original song, 《Snow Buries the Flower》was popular across the whole country, winning all kinds of prizes. But fame comes with a price, and within a year of becoming famous, there were all sorts of scandals, such as the “Celebrity Hostess” and “Sex Champion”. These keywords were brought up every day.

But the event that made the most noise was still that year’s “Mistress Incident”. According to the rumours, Dream Jade took the initiative to fool around with Hong Kong Movie Emperor, Liang Jun, who was 42 at that time. The pair aroused suspicions, until the point where they were caught in a coffee shop in Tsim Sha Tsui by Liang Jun’s wife and her two kids. Liang Jun’s eldest child was as old as Dream Jade.

The mother and two children did not bother to avoid arousing suspicion and had beaten Dream Jade on the spot. She was injured to the point where she had to stay in the hospital for 1 month. There was an uproar about the incident, to the point where Liang Jun had a press conference, where he cried about how he made a mistake that all men would make.

He blamed the fact that Dream Jade was too pretty and too solicitous, and that he could not control himself. Fortunately, his wife and two children forgave him, hoping that they could regain their normal lives. They treasured life and wanted Liang Jun to stay far away from prostitutes, and Liang Jun himself begged for forgiveness from fans and everyone else...

Just like that, from then on, Dream Jade had never gotten any new jobs and was formally frozen by the company, until 《China’s Wonderful Sound》, where she regained her fame.

In the early morning, Dream Jade, who did not have a good sleep, was already awake at 6am. Sneezing, she came down from the second floor to the open kitchen, looking to grab a bite. Who could've known that Chen Min, who should be damned to hell, got there even earlier than her and was making breakfast.

"You're awake? I'm guessing that you didn't sleep well last night?" Chen Min asked this question with a smile.

"You're earlier than me, doesn't that mean you slept even worse than me? Why, are you not used to the high-quality mattress?" Dream Jade sat in front of the kitchen table.

"From the start, I have never slept. My past training has let my sleeping become very light, I won't feel sleepy for two or three days. Drink this, you must not have had a hot bath yesterday right?" Chen Min put on an apron and put a bowl of ginger soup in front of Dream Jade.

"How did you know? The moment Dream Jade said this, she sneezed loudly. Her embarrassed look was also very cute, "Okay, I won't ask."

"Also, eat this. I made this century egg with lean meat congee, it's just that I'm not sure whether it is suitable for you. If you eat low-calorie congee for breakfast, you won't get fat even if you eat more of it." While Chen Min was speaking, he served a bowl of congee.

Not to mention that Chen Min's skill at cooking wasn't bad. It was only a normal congee, but he had added some special ingredient into it, which let it become even more delicious.

Dream Jade, who had an especially small appetite, finished an entire bowl. After having finished her meal, she rested her chin on her hands and watched as Chen Min washed the kitchenware, "I wouldn't have been able to tell that you, this great bodyguard would have such skill in cooking? If you had become a chef, your salary would've been better than your salary as a bodyguard."

"Money to me is just a tool for me to maintain my life. Eating a lobster is fine, and eating grass is also fine. I don't pay particular attention to material goods. Being a bodyguard is my family's profession that has been passed down from my ancestors. I feel like continuing this job." Chen Min was washing dishes while talking.

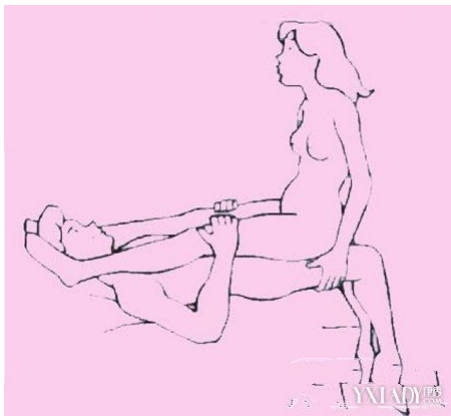

"Strange bodyguard, for you to feel interest in following someone around, you must be an M, I can't be bothered about you." Dream Jade finished the remaining ginger soup with one mouthful and returned to her room to change clothes. Anyway, the eyes she used to look at Chen Min today had already lost the look of exclusion, to the point where it carried a trace of gentleness.

Chapter 10-Heartbreaking Interview

Today, Dream Jade was even busier. By 830am, she left the house and directly went to a private dance room, and trained her performance with her stage partner. Training with her made the stage partner so tired that he almost cried tears of exhaustion. They practiced intermittently, all the way up to 8 o'clock at night. Only then did they finish.

Even so, Wu Neng did not plan to let off this hard working celebrity, and arranged an interview program on《Lu Yu has a date》, to increase the popularity of Dream Jade before the finals of the competition.

Basking in Dream Jade's limelight, Xiao Yi and Chen Min sat in the first row of the auditorium. Xiao Yi was watching with excitement after all, this was her first time participating in a live recording program, and her appearance might be seen on television.

Dream Jade was also somewhat nervous, as it was a few years since her last time participating in this sort of large scale interview program. She had already looked over the script in the car. The questions that the programme's team prepared, under a request, avoided certain topics that Dream Jade did not wish to talk about, such as the Mistress Incident from that year.

After training for a day, when Dream Jade walked up on stage, she was already exhausted. But under the spotlight, her smile was sweet and amiable, and after she politely shook the presenter's hand and made her greetings, she sat on the long sofa and started ""chatting.

The basic flow of the conversation started by first delving into Dream Jade's childhood, then talking about her upbringing, and then talked about issues about her life, her romance, her career, and her opinion on different things. Sometimes, sharp questions such as "Who do you think is the most unreasonable star", and "How do feel about your company "freezing" you?" would pop up.

Dream Jade was not considered a newcomer anymore, and she could still handle this sort of situation. For the question of "Who do you think is the most unreasonable celebrity?", she answered it by saying that unreasonable could be understood as being serious and responsible towards one's job; For the question of "How do you feel about your company "freezing" you?", she answered it by saying that it could be understood as accumulating experience, learning music. The biggest benefit that the programme brought was that Dream Jade was allowed to sing her previous hit song 《Snow Buries the Flower》.

The atmosphere in the recording studio was very harmonious, even though Lu Yu still asked many typical silly questions, for example, "Have you ever been beaten when you were young?", "Losing weight must be very hard, right?", and "Do you know how to use a spatula to cook food?"

Intermittently, the program reached its end. Just as Dream Jade was beginning to clear her throat in preparation for the next singing segment, who knew that Lu Yu's great brain would have a flash of inspiration. She took out another placard and suddenly asked, "We all know that Dream Jade was famous all around the country that year, and your experience is also the pillar of many girl's dreams. But, humans will always err, and everyone was young before.

Let us first watch a video clip...."

On the big screen behind her back appeared a narration of a recording by the programme team regarding Meng Qi's Mistress Incident.

Dream Jade, who was sitting on the sofa looked as if she did not know what to do, and her pleading gaze shot at the Wu Neng that was in the audience. Wu Neng also kept looking, hinting to Dream Jade that he himself did not know anything. Furthermore, to let her calm down, Wu Neng went to go look for the director for an explanation.

The short clip roughly reviewed the entire story of the Mistress Incident, even though the whole thing was speaking up for Dream Jade, such as how she did not sue Liang Jun's wife after getting beaten up, and did not seek compensation, showing her 'magnanimosity'; how that year Liang Jun was rumoured to be in the middle of divorcing his wife, so there was a high possibility that Dream Jade was the victim; When Dream Jade was facing criticism, she did not hire internet mercenaries to defend her, and had professional ethics in being.....a mistress.

After the clip, Lu Yu's first question was "did getting hit at that time hurt?"

Xiao Yi couldn't resist thinking of slapping the host's two ears. To ask her if it hurt.....

The atmosphere on site immediately became particularly embarrassing. It was as if Dream Jade was sitting on pins and needles, her body was shaking nonstop and her eyes were holding back tears as they looked around randomly. Her nervous eyes drifted towards the audience seats as she searched for a straw to clutch at. Finally her eyes for god knows why, fell on Chen Min. The pitiful look in her eyes was practically saying, “bring me away from here”.

However, Chen Min didn’t move. He just sat there like a machine. He was a bodyguard, not a servant. He was unable to decide what kind of road his clients took for them. If Dream Jade really wanted to leave, not even a thousand soldiers and ten thousand horses[1] could stop her. Chen Min would also inevitably react with, “if god blocks me, kill god, if buddha blocks me, kill buddha”; But if she just needed someone to give her the courage to escape.....it was impossible fo about we talk about something else?” Dream Jade’s voice was trembling, but she war Chen Min to accomplish。

“Then, let me change the question, did you love him?” Lu Yu asked once more.

“I don’t know if that was considered love, I just want to say, let the past be the past, just like what you said, who hasn’t been young, and made mistakes? How about talk about something else” Meng Qi’s voice was trembling, but she was still so dedicated to changing the topic.

“I know, this question could have hurt you. But, regarding love, your fans are entitled to know the truth. So, today we also invited a secret guest, Movie Emperor—— Mr. Liang Jun.” Lu Yu exaggeratedly said.

Liang Jun, who was wearing a simple leisure suit, walked out from backstage. That asian man hung his most affectionate smile on his face. As soon as, Movie Emperor Liang Jun, who could even act with the wrinkles at the corner of his eyes, appeared on stage, he immediately attracted the audience’s cheers.

He, who was 44 years old this year, was a top star among China's male actors. The artistic films he once took part in all won awards internationally. This let him, whose body was no taller than 170cm, somehow capture the hearts of female fans as young as 18 and as old as 80, earning him the title of "the masses' sweetheart".

Seeing this man whom she had already not seen for over 2 years, Meng Qi lost control on the spot, covered her mouth with her hands and started crying. God knows which motherfucking sound technician unexpectedly started playing the ending song of the movie《A Chinese Odyssey》, 《Lifelong Love》

Many audience members that did not know the truth started crying as the song played, thinking that it was a pair of unfortunate lovers finally reuniting. But, only Chen Min knew that Dream Jade was actually crying because she was extremely scared.

Liang Jun sat down by Dream Jade's side with a smile, and deliberately leaned on her. Dream Jade was already in tears, and absolutely could not answer any questions. Even so, the Lu Yu who had a big brain decided to strike while the iron was hot, and inquired Liang Jun regarding the incident.

Liang Jun, carrying an apologetic smile, said,"Actually, that was a beautiful chance encounter, where we were attracted to each other's talent. I know that I was unable to make her happy, because after all, I am a man with a wife and kids. Dream Jade is a good girl, she knew that this was so, and did not carry any extravagant hopes in getting anything from me. She just wanted to get closer to me.

This incident was my fault. Here, I would like to sincerely apologize to Dream Jade. If I had refused you, perhaps it was for you to find true happiness. After all, there is a type of love called letting go.

"Liar!" Hearing this, Dream Jade finally could not endure anymore, and jumped up from the sofa, then slapped Liang Jun's face. She then turned around and ran out of the recording studio, her face full of tears.

"Dream Jade!" Xiao Yi was nervous due to this newly recognized little sister, and tried to catch up with her.

The scene became extremely chaotic, and Lu Yu also became especially awkward, and nervously asked Liang Jun, "Did it hurt getting slapped on the face?"

The event was could not be recorded any further, and the directors decided to take a break for ten minutes. They decided to finish the program by interviewing Liang Jun alone. With Dream Jade's slap on the face, it was destined that the ratings for this episode would be doubled.

Using the break time, Liang Jun went to a washroom, and the bodyguard that followed him waited for him outside. He looked at his bright red face on the dressing mirror, and said to himself in a bad mood, "Cunt, you actually dare to hit me! Later, you can see whether or not I'm scared to tell them all about fucking you. Why should I be scared of the directors cutting footage out? The online presses will make you feel more pain than my slapped face."

When Liang Jun was talking to himself, the toilet door was opened, and Chen Min who wore a suit walked in. Liang Jun instinctively put on his charming smile, without noticing that his bodyguard outside the door had already collapsed.

After Liang Jun finished putting on his makeup, he went to a urinal and pulled down his zipper. As for Chen Min, he was opening the door of every urinal, but not walking in.

"Friend, are you mysophobic? Do you also need to pick a place with good feng shui before taking a dump?" Liang Jun was shocked by Chen Min's silent checking of toilets.

"Remember, don't resist too fiercely, and don't open your mouth. This way, you can drink less water." After Chen Min had checked that the toilet was empty, he suddenly stood beside Liang Jun.

"What do you mean?" While Liang Jun was surprised, Chen Min grabbed at the back of his head, and dragged Liang Jun into a cubicle, then shoved him into a toilet bowl.

"Save....." Before Liang Jun's cry for help was completed, his head had already been shoved into the toilet bowl. It was clear that Chen Min's advice had not been heeded, as despite being inside the water, Liang Jun's mouth was still wide open, struggling to shout for help.

Chen Min's large hands were like metal claws which did not even shake. No matter how much Liang Jun struggled, his head could not leave the toilet bowl.

Until one minute later, when Chen Min finally took his head out. This magnificent Film Emperor was unceasingly vomiting a blue coloured water out of his mouth and nose, like a drowned rat.

"Big brother! I don't know you! Why are you treating me like this!" Liang Jun begged.

"You have hurt her." When Chen Min finished talking, he gave Liang Jun's head another shove, and this time he used even more strength, giving Liang Jun's face another wave.

This continued for one and a half minutes, and when Liang Jun was pulled out of the toilet bowl, his face was as pale as a corpse. Liang Jun kept vomiting nonstop, "Big Brother! Your employer.....is Dream Jade? But I have never hurt her!"

"There is a type of pain called heartache." Chen Min finally released Liang Jun and left the compartment, heading towards the outside of the toilet.

"I will kill you all! You, and Dream Jade, both of you! I'll report this to the media, you guys are dead meat!" Liang Jun seemed to have regained a bit of a man's bravery and shouted out.

"Media exposure is fine, even a police report is fine, tell it however you want. Oh, I forgot to tell you, during the ten years before I was a bodyguard, I specialized in killing."

After acting for several tens of years, Liang Jun had done lots of research on the art of acting. He could immediately tell whenever someone was acting, and he could tell that the man at the door was absolutely not bluffing or trying to scare him. He was definitely someone who had done 'that sort of work', and he was someone extremely good at it.....

When Chen Min left the toilet, the person he unexpectedly saw was Xiao Yi, who had a loaded gun in her hands.

"Did you think that I would kill him?" Chen Min wiped the water stains on his hand on the bodyguard next to him that had fainted.

"I'm not sure, your behaviour cannot be estimated using normal means. I was just preparing for the unexpected." Xiao Yi kept her gun while speaking, "What happened today never happened, I have not seen anything, and I will not report this to the higher-ups."

"You've already learnt favouritism so quickly?" Chen Min unconsciously laughed.

"just this once. Who asked that guy to bully my little sister? He deserved to drink toilet water. By the way, when you're talking can you stand a bit further away from me? Your body smells of toilet cleaning agents!"

[1]千军万马 lit TL= thousand soldiers, ten thousand horses. Chapter 11 - The Stalker

Returning to the villa district, Chen Min did not even bother to wait for the car to stop before jumping out and impatiently opening the room door. Originally, he wanted to find Dream Jade, but when he entered the living room, he could only see Wu Neng on the couch, silently tasting red wine.

"I remember that you said that you were a professional bodyguard. Let me ask you, by letting your owner run away alone, can you still be considered a professional?" Wu Neng shook his glass of red wine.

"Sorry, this won't happen again, where is Dream Jade?" Chen Min could not refute Wu Neng. Like what Wu Neng said, the fault could only be blamed on Chen Min himself.

"Will there even be a next time? Do you know how much trouble you caused? In Hong Kong, Liang Jun has many contacts. The managing company he is affiliated with was opened by a boss of the underworld. There was once a director that scolded him a little. That director had to go home with broken legs.

I don't expect you to bring Dream Jade any benefits, but could you at least not bring harm to her?" Wu Neng, in a single gulp, finished the wine in his glass.

"Have you already handled it?" Chen Min understood, Wu Neng absolutely would not publicly denounce someone. A person like him would always quietly complete his tasks.

"That year when Dream Jade was deceived by Liang Jun, I had already gathered information about what he secretly does. This time, you have really frightened him, but with these pieces of information I have, today's incident will never go to light." Wu Neng softly sighed.

"Thanks, I owe you one. If there's a chance, I will repay this favour." Chen Min continued, "Where is Dream Jade?"

"At the seaside." Before Wu Neng had even finished speaking, Chen Min had already rushed out the backdoor.

Dream Jade was sitting on the beach, hugging her legs. The high tide was soaking her toes, but she did not even move one bit. This evening's sea breeze was very cooling. The sky was covered by the clouds, it was so dark that the stars could not be seen.

"Today you're very tired. Why don't you go back and rest?" Chen Min took off his jacket and put it on Dream Jade's shoulder.

"Get lost, I don't want to see you! Men are all beasts!" Dream Jade threw the jacket into the sea like throwing garbage, letting the seawater carry it to a distant place.

"I'm not." Chen Min quietly looked at the faraway jacket.

"Not a man? Or not a beast?!" Dream Jade was like a breaking dam, and yet Chen Min wanted her to find fault with him. Anger, suffering, despair, all the negative emotions were just poured on him.

"Do you men even understand what love is? Your brain only understands lust, just to sleep with a girl, you can fabricate all sorts of lies, make all sorts of promises. What 'I have already divorced', what 'I will only love you alone', what 'Besides you I will never ever love anyone else', what 'For you I can die'! All lies!" Dream Jade tore off a big bracelet from her right wrist, and threw it at Chen Min's chest, exposing a sinister scar on her right wrist.

"It was obviously me that was hurt, but why must I be made into a mistress? It was obviously him that was lying, but why does the world make me the villain?

It's obvious that you men will err, but do we women deserve being called a homewrecker?

I want to use my life to prove my innocence, what innocence does the entertainment industry have? All it has are warped values, and just for the sake of success, they can be shameless." Dream Jade was crying so much it was as if she was trying to use her tears to create another ocean,"To satisfy your sexual desire, you can say anything you want, you brutes! All of you are bru-.....!"

Before Dream Jade could finish talking, that man who was hard as steel, who was as stiff as wood, yet as warm as the sun, grabbed Dream Jade's trembling shoulder... and kissed her tender lips.

Dream Jade had never met such a rude man. This guy had even skipped the process of using flowery words, and instead directly kissed her.

But the weird thing was, why didn't she avoid it? Because he was courageous and strong? Or was it because his kiss was so gentle, like the honey for the heart, that temporarily covered up her suffering?

"Would a brute kiss you like this?" Only after sensing that the girl in front of him finally calmed down did Chen Min return to his original stance.

"Why did you kiss me?" Dream Jade covered her mouth, her tears had yet to dry, but her face was dyed in red.

"Because you needed it. Your pent up emotions erupted at that moment. If not dealt with effectively, it could very likely end up in acute depression."

"Animal! You're even worse than a brute! At least other men are willing to spend time to fool people, you even save the time spent on fooling people!" Dream Jade's fury, which was originally halted, flared up once again. Merely, this time it was all directed at Chen Min. However, it was not nearly as intense as just now, where she looked like she was on the verge of a breakdown.

"I will never lie to you. When you need to vent, I'll be your air bag[1]; When you need to eat, I'll be your bean paste bun[1]; When you need to go on a long journey, I'll be your travel pack[1]; Only when you encounter danger, only then am I your bodyguard.

I don't need to care about whether or not you like me, after all, I'm more clear than you on what you need.

If you want to cry, then cry on my chest. Even in your most fragile moment, you still don't have to worry about the world hurting you. Because there's me, your full-time bodyguard." Chen Min always used that 'even if the sky fell, he wouldn't be fazed' tone. So, moving words were also like workplace declarations. But Dream Jade still powerlessly fell into Chen Min's embrace.

[1] It's a pun/poetry technique. All the words end with 包(bag), air bag for venting anger is obvious, the character for 'bun' is also bag, and pack also = 包'

"Why do you make me hate you so much? I clearly hate you so much, yet I can't run away from you..." Dream Jade buried her face in Chen Min's bosom. This was the first time that she felt that there was such a trustworthy man...

Dream Jade was too tired and actually snuggled in Chen Min's embrace, sleeping with tears held back. Finally, it was Chen Min who had to princess carry her back to the villa and placed her on the comfortable bed.

The second day, when Dream Jade woke up from her sleep, she saw the splendid sunlight outside the window, a cup of milk and a note on a cabinet next to the bed. The note said, "Drink it, maybe you can still grow taller."

"A silly bodyguard is much more fun..." The black clouds in Dream Jade's heart were dispersed last night, and she finished the glass of milk with a young lady's happy smile.

Today was the third day that Chen Min was following Dream Jade, and it was also the day where Wu Neng couldn't tolerate it anymore. First thing in the morning, he gave Dream Jade strict orders. He rejected all the interviews, dance practices, fan club meetings on that day. They would only do one thing, which was deciding on the last song of the competition.

Wu Neng purposely invited the country's most famous composer for Dream Jade, even if she had to go 24 hours without sleeping, she had to completely study that song.

In order to avoid information about the song being disclosed, Wu Neng even chose to not hire a driver. Xiao Yi had no choice but to return to being a guest driver. Chen Min still habitually sat in the first officer's seat.

"Hey, add sugar into the milk next time. How am I supposed to drink such plain milk?" Dream Jade sitting behind said, trying to find fault with him..

"Got it." Chen Min replied with a smile.

"Let's go." Xiao Yi started up the nanny van and drove towards the destination.

During the journey, everyone was very busy. Wu Neng was busy calling the sponsors and confirming later events; Xiao Yi had never ever driven such a big car, so she didn't dare to be distracted at all; Chen Min was constantly paying attention to what was happening outside the car window, quietly; Dream Jade had a musical score and pencil in her hands, looking at Chen Min who was sitting in front, while humming the song she had composed two years ago and writing brand new lyrics on the musical score.

She had never felt so good writing song lyrics. It was as if the characters were already in her brain, emerging and jumping on to the musical score.

But right as the nanny van was cruising along the coastal overpass, Chen Min suddenly said," Xiao Yi, decelerate to 30km/h"

"Is your head offline? This highway has a minimum speed of 60km/h, I'll have my points deducted." Xiao Yi said confusedly

"Listen to me, quickly decelerate." Chen Min's tone of voice was firm. Xiao Yi didn't ask anymore questions and slammed on the brakes, slowing down the car. The vehicles behind had to drive around the nanny van that was like a huge turtle. When the cars beside overtook, many drivers 'amiably' pointed the middle finger at Chen Min, and the even 'friendlier' ones even gave their respects[2] to Chen Min's mother.

[2]: Basically, cursed at his mother.

But Chen Min ignored all these gestures, and kept looking at the car behind using the rear mirrors.

"Hey, why are you driving slowly? We're in a rush!" Wu Neng hung up his phone and said with anxiety.

"There's a car behind us... It's been following us since we left the ." Even though Chen Min signaled to Xiao Yi to slow down, that car still followed suit and slowed down, there wasn't the slightest sign of overtaking.

One must know that it was just a taxi. Time, to him, should be money, but he had never left or gave up from start to finish. What's more, the licence plates on the front and back were blocked by CDs which covered up the last two numbers. This was a suicidal act that would cause 12 points to be deducted

"Xiao Yi, maintain this speed and wait for me to give the signal before accelerating." Chen Min said as he went through the coach to the seats at the back.

"Chen Min what are planning on doing?" Xiao Yi bafflingly felt worried for Chen Min.

"Getting rid of danger before it occurs. Don't worry, it's nothing." Chen Min grabbed the back door's handle and suddenly called out, "Go faster!"

Xiao Yi directly floored the gas pedal, and the huge nanny van shot forward like a horse that broke its leash, the speedometer rapidly went from 30 to 50. Naturally, that strange taxi also accelerated and caught up with the van.

Chen Min suddenly opened the back car door and jumped out from the nanny van. Like superman, he stably landed on the taxi's hood. The taxi's iron cover was caved in by Chen Min's stomp, and the front of the taxi also sank in a bit. Bursts of sparks were created by the friction between the front bumper and the ground, and the rear tire almost came out.

The vehicles that were passing by thought that they were filming a movie. Only Chen Min, who was grabbing the edge of the hood, fixed his eyes on the driver behind the windshield. That guy was wearing a skin mask, and the mask was unexpectedly of Dream Jade's face.

Also, the accessory hanging from the rear view mirror was a toy figurine of Dream Jade, and the radio was playing Dream Jade's song, 《Snow Buries Flower》, on loop.

"Stop right now." Chen Min waved his fist at the taxi's windshield, and punched it. Who would've known that the driver's reaction would be to accelerate, and suddenly break, throwing Chen Min and the hood off the car. While sparks flew due to the inertia between the hood Chen Min was stepping on and the floor, the taxi had already overtook other cars and sped away.

"Chen Min!" Xiao Yi stopped the car and ran over.

"Your driving skills are not bad, you won't have such good luck next time." Chen Min looked at the rapidly leaving car and said coldly.

Chapter 12 - King of Snipers

Upon reaching the composer's studio in the heart of Lin Hai City, the tastes of an artist could be seen everywhere. As for the specific song that Dream Jade was going to sing, even Chen Min and Xiao Yi weren't allowed to know. Wu Neng made it seem like it was a national secret. Chen Min sat in front of the huge gold sculpture in the center of the courtyard and waited.

Xiao Yi, who had returned after leaving for half an hour, sat right next to Chen Min, "I've already contacted my ex-classmates in the traffic department. They've helped me check things out secretly. The licence number was incomplete, so there are altogether 5 suspicious cars, but they didn't investigate deeply. After all, they're not detectives and the other party didn't commit a crime, so they can't disclose the city resident's information, that would be punishable by law. Unless of course if I personally pay a visit, "accidentally" seeing it is no big deal."

"Classmates should contact each other and reminisce. Go along now." Chen Min laughed.

"I'm kidding, if I go, who's going to keep an eye on you? I'm telling you now, my most important mission is to follow you, and not to catch some fan with a twisted mind." Xiao Yi said with contempt.

"Give me your phone." While Chen Min was saying that, he had already grabbed Xiao Yi's phone and skillfully entered an encrypted URL and directly downloaded an app called 'Soul Chaser'.

“What are you doing? To begin with, I don’t have enough data!”

“This is the Nirvana Project’s dedicated tracking app, actually, every single participant of the Nirvana Project swallowed a “roundworm” electronic tracking device. Those things released hooks inside our stomachs and are hanging onto the walls. Even if we died, they wouldn’t fall off.”

“Its signal is extremely strong. Using GPS, you can get it to be as accurate as 1 meter. Only the Colonel and I know the tracking password. From a Nirvana Soldier’s point of view, this is more important than life.” Nevertheless, Chen Min entered his own password into the app and gave the phone back to Xiao Yi.

An electronic 3D map appeared on the screen. The pulsating green dot represented Chen Min. It also displayed many other parameters, including heart rate, adrenal stress index, even fitness.

“Why are you telling me such an important thing?” Xiao Yi was stunned. Even though she had never been on the battlefield, she still knew that this password was extremely important. Once this information was leaked to the enemies, it was practically a 100% chance of becoming a hunted animal.

“Because I trust you, right now, I need you to trust me too. I won’t run and I won’t hide. I long for an uneventful life in the city more than anyone else. Help me find that person’s info alright?” Chen Min said with sincerity.

“Just this once... never again. I always feel like I’m falling into your traps." Xiao Yi stood up with a sigh. She could only personally pay a visit.

Not long after Xiao Yi left, roughly just before 11am, Dream Jade exhaustedly walked out from the workroom and sat beside Chen Min.

"Taking a halftime break? Do you need something to eat?" Chen Min looked at Dream Jade's sickly face.

"It's not a halftime break, I've finished."

"So fast?" Chen Min was astonished, he wanted to know whether Wu Neng was planning on wasting a whole day.

"I want to sing a self-written song, but uncle won't let me. In the end, the revolt failed. The song will be what he chooses, but a few melodies will be changed. After singing twice it'll be over... I'm just a professional singer, it's not difficult at all." While Dream Jade was helplessly sighing, she suddenly smiled once more, "But luckily, it ended early. Wu Neng promised to repay the half day holiday that was taken away from me. I want to go out and play, come with me!

"You want to go to the women's shopping district again? If I remember correctly, your acting skills were really bad. If we get seen by the public, it'll definitely turn into another 'Great Escape'." Chen Min was worriedly pulling his hair.

"Don't worry, do you think that this young lady is so stupid? How can I fall down at the same place twice, I have already thought of a place to go!" Dream Jade had a mysterious grin, and she grabbed Chen Min and ran out.

And all of this, was seen by Wu Neng who was currently accompanying the composer.

“To be honest, her singing is really nice, but solely based on the revised song, there’s no way she’ll beat Green Tea. You should have her sing a new song.” The composer frankly said.

“I know, but to a celebrity, winning or losing has never been important. The important part is how to get the biggest benefit.” Wu Neng had already planned this all out.

Half an hour later, Chen Min accompanying Dream Jade, arrived at the place where she said her identity would easily remain hidden. That place was actually “Adorable Happy Valley” which was located by the seaside.

This was Lin Hai city’s only, and also its biggest, theme park. Although today was not a holiday, there were still many visitors here. Before getting off the car, Dream Jade wore a Venetian mask with so many bright crystals stuck to it that there was no space left for anything else. In this theme park, wearing a mask would not attract any attention.

Today, Dream Jade was wearing a sky-blue, one-piece dress, her pleated skirt covering only a third of her thigh. She wore zebra-striped tights on the lower half of her body and round-toed leather boots. Her long shoulder-length hair was tied into pigtails and was exactly like a black-haired version of Hatsune Miku.

"I say, you're already a grown up[1], do you really have to play with these kind of things?" Chen Min knitted his eyebrows.

"You're the old one[1]! I am a young lady! Young lady!" Dream Jade brandished her inflated iron hammer and struck the back of Chen Min's head. "So what if I want to play with this? If you don't like it then bite me!"

"First, let me say something. There are quite a few people here, so you are not allowed to be more than 5 meters away from me." After what happened in the morning, Chen Min had already increased the level of security that he gave to Dream Jade.

"Sure, I'll also bring you into the ladies' bathroom, you long-winded bodyguard." Dream Jade laughed and held Chen Min's wrist then dragged him into the theme park like they were a couple.

Dream Jade had never been to such a big theme park. She had avoided these types of places even more after she had become famous, . Only with Chen Min around her could she feel relieved and enjoy herself. This was because no matter what happened, Dream Jade knew that Chen Min would protect her and let her leave safely.

For Dream Jade, today was a holiday. For Chen Min, work continued as usual. A theme park was the best place for ambushing a target. There were many people, the roads branched out in all directions, and one could even disguise himself without looking out of place. Chen Min himself had assassinated a target in this kind of place.

But now, he could only give his all and pay careful attention to every person that passed by him. However, Dream Jade did not cooperate at all, if she saw anything, she would excitedly charge at it. Be it a roller coaster, a topple tower[2], a drop zone[3]. If there were many people, she would run straight and cram herself in.

It was hard to imagine that this girl whose courage surpassed her height, could actually sit through the 4 Great Earthquake Valley roller coasters, without even taking a single break in between.

“Ah!!!” During the vertical drop of the roller coaster, Dream Jade was screaming, with her eyes shut behind the mask. Whereas Chen Min, who was sitting beside her, didn’t even bat an eyelid.

“Hey, are you a dead person? This was so exciting, yet you didn’t even shout. This is too much of a disservice to the staff!” Dream Jade said after the ride as she hit Chen Min’s arm.

“If you tried being dropped from 50 meters in the air into the sea without a parachute, trust me, you won’t ever get any adrenaline from such things for a lifetime.” Chen Min helplessly said.

“Strange bodyguard....Ah! There’s a doll!” Dream Jade once again found another new ‘battlefield’.

In front of a game stall named 'Hunting wild ducks', the stall owner who was dressed like a 'Bald Strongman[4]' was busy trying to market his rigged shooting game. During the game, you would have to use a BB gun to try and shoot the moving 16 wild ducks on the platform 5 meters away. As long as you were able to shoot half of the ducks, you would be able to get a doll.

([4]:Bald Strongman looks like this:
<https://ss1.baidu.com/6ONXsjip0QIZ8tyhnq/it/u=4182173113,4289604680>

"Boss, how much for one try?" Dream Jade was extremely eager to try this out.

Using 20¥ to fill up an entire cartridge of ammo, Dream Jade aimed the gun with a single hand. Who knew that the recoil would suddenly jolt her arm, causing it to bend. The sound of firing also scared Dream Jade until she closed her eyes. This toy gun clearly did not let anyone happily win the prize, it even added a recoil device!

"Your arm is too thin, don't use a single hand to fire." Chen Min sighed while catching Dream Jade from the back, then making her grip the gun handle with both hands. His whispers made Dream Jade unable to help blushing, " My mistress, when shooting, don't close your eyes. Focus on the movement of the target through the sight. You can hold your breath at the moment of firing, and make sure your body is balanced before trying again."

With the advice of an expert, after Chen Min released her, Dream Jade pulled the trigger and naturally hit a duck.

"I hit it!" Dream Jade excitedly jumped up. But for the next 14 shots, she only hit two, and she got the consolation prize.....a bag of tissues.

"Shark! You are blatantly stealing my money!" Dream Jade was so angry that she threw the tissues onto the floor. Even her who did not understand guns felt scammed. The gun's recoil was a man-made design, and there was not enough pressure applied to the bullets. So after flying two or three meters, the bullet would just fall. Under these circumstances, 99% of the time, 20¥ would only get you a bag of tissues.

"Don't get so angry, it's just a game. Are you going to cause another 'Great Escape' again?" Chen Min patted Dream Jade's shoulder and pulled her behind him. He faced the bald man and said, "Boss, one more time."

Reloading the cartridge, Chen Min held the gun with one hand, the smile on his face disappearing the moment he aimed. His sideways stance was as handsome as the actors in the movies. Pa! Pa! Pa! After many gunshots sounded out without pause, all 16 of the moving ducks fell down, and the whole process only took nine seconds.

"Are you kidding me?" The bald man almost peed in his pants. This store had been opened for more than three years, and he had never seen such a monster. Even a military soldier had only shot 12 targets and was already considered as having godly skill, and it was even said that that guy was an army sniper.....Then what was Chen Min? The king of snipers?

"Hey hey, stop standing there like a fool! I want that biggest one!" Dream Jade walked up and kicked the baldy's leg. And like this, a bunny that was even taller than Dream Jade was now carried on Chen Min's back.

They found a long chair that faced the ocean to sit on. A girl and a boy and a huge rabbit, it was such a happy trio.

"Your shooting skill was so good, how did you hit everything with that toy gun? Were you a soldier in the past? Special forces maybe?" Dream Jade held a cone of ice cream in her hand and pushed up her mask ever so slightly. She was so excited that she couldn't stop moving her mouth.

"Not really a soldier, but I've been tempered on the battlefield for 10 years and luckily managed to live long enough to come back." Chen Min held the ice cream cone and licked a mouthful.

"Have you killed before?" Dream Jade suddenly said solemnly.

"Yes, but according to what I know, they're all bad people." Chen Min added a sentence which made Dream Jade smile.

"Then that's fine, I know you're a good person and that you wouldn't do anything wrong." Dream Jade once again talked about a worrying topic, "Are you and Xiao Yi a couple?"

"Nope, the amount of time we've known each other and the amount of time I've known you is only different by one day. She's not bad, she'll definitely be a good assistant. Right now, our relationship should be considered partners and friends." Chen Min didn't hide anything.

“En en, that’s good” When Dream Jade was comforting herself, she saw a cone of black coloured ice cream in Chen Min’s hand. “ What flavour is yours?”

“Maybe coffee? It’s a bit bitter.”

“Let me try.” Without waiting for Chen Min to reply, Dream Jade went in front of him, bent down, stuck out her small tongue and licked the ice cream, causing Chen Min’s face to turn red.

[1] more puns cause fuck my life.... Word used is 老大不小 which could mean 1) already grown up or 2) above marriageable age. Basically Chen Min is saying Dream Jade is a grown up and Dream Jade is using the other meaning and saying that Chen Min is old.

Chapter 13 - The Assassin Strikes

"My mistress, must you really eat like this?" Chen Min used both his hands to hold the cone of ice cream in front of him. While Dream Jade was instead using her fingertips to brush off the hairs that fell beside her ear, she was leaning over to eat some ice cream. She also licked it and bit it, and the melted liquid of the ice cream followed the cone shape as it dripped onto Chen Min's hand. The liquid was wet, and sticky....

"I'm just trying a bit, why are you so stingy?" When Dream Jade was speaking, she was even making a bubbling noise.

"Since you like it, I'll just give it to you." Chen Min shoved the entire ice cream cone into Dream Jade's hand.

"Why are you so nervous? Could it be that you've never experienced love before?" Dream Jade finally sat up and wiped the ice cream on her mouth off, her mouth almost numb with cold.

"I was busy for the past ten years, and I had no time to fall in love. But there was a girl who constantly called herself my wife. I don't know whether or not that counts as love?" Chen Min had already learnt how to fly a military airplane, yet he didn't know how to control girls.

"Do you like her?" Dream Jade's small face became nervous.

"I do like her, but I don't love her. I treat her more like a friend, a partner, a battle companion."

"Then why don't you reject her?"

"Because I would get killed. I can't beat her, and putting it nicely, I really don't know how strong a person on this earth has to be to be able to beat her.

But we have already lost contact for half a year. She should've already died." When Chen Min said this, he felt that he was relieved from a burden.

This was the first time that Dream Jade thought she was a quite awful, because she actually felt happy for the death of someone else's 'wife'.

"Enough rest! Let's have a second round of roller coasters! Roller coasters!" Dream Jade enthusiastically pulled Chen Min and once again headed back to the area of the roller coasters...

At 8pm, Xiao Yi, who was wearing Bluetooth earphones, called Chen Min's handphone.

"Friend, I was working myself to death to help you find this assassin, and you spent the whole day having fun in the theme park?" Xiao Yi looked at Chen Min's activities via the 'Soul Chaser' app, and the feeling that she had gotten cheated spontaneously arrived.

"Have you found it?" Chen Min sat in the back row of a taxi and looked out of the window. Dream Jade had already played until she was tired, so she wore the mask and rested her head on Chen Min's thigh, sleeping.

Sitting in the front passenger seat, was that big grinning rabbit, which made the driver's skin crawl.

"There are 5 suspicious characters. The top 4 all have the alibi of not being on site at the time. Only the last driver, called Zhao Qian, aged 28, weighing 90kg, matches the description you gave. I'm currently in the elevator on the way to his home." Xiao Yi took out the gun on her waist and finally bore some resemblance to a detective.

"Be careful." Chen Min reminded.

"Don't worry, other than you, are there any other men that can deal with me?" Xiao Yi said as she exited the lift.

It was an old building, the 8 flats per floor design was definitely a nightmare for office workers. Zhao Qian's unit was easy to find. The gap beneath the wooden door was filled with advertisements saying, "无偿贷款[1]", "包小姐[2]" and "重金求子[3]". The gap was so filled that even cockroaches would have a hard time entering.

All of which obviously signify that the owner has been away for a long time. Xiao Yi went forward and directly gave the door a reverse hook kick. Her 105cm long leg was like a sledgehammer as it kicked open the door with a bang.

After turning on the lights, Xiao Yi looked around the cramped apartment that made her hair stand. Leftover instant noodle boxes and garbage were piled up in a corner, and rats were currently having a feast. The bedding that smelt of mould which was thrown in a corner even had mushrooms growing out of it.

It was such an excellent otaku's room, and yet the wall was filled with pictures and newspaper clippings of Dream Jade. From a corner, clippings of when she just debuted, to the entire page of her scandal, were posted. It was simply a madman's hodgepodge of Dream Jade.

What's even more terrifying was that on one wall, written in bright red, were the words, "DREAM JADE, I WANT TO DIE TOGETHER WITH YOU".

"Hello? Are you still there?" Xiao Yi softly said.

"Yup, talk to me."

"That guy's very fucked up. I can't say for certain, but those threatening letters are probably sent by him. Want to file a police report? I'll have a friend write up a warrant."

"No need. A bodyguard who calls the cops and a homo that looks for women are both equally laughable. You've already done enough. Just head back. I might reach there later than you." As Chen Min was talking, he was also looking at the sideview mirrors in front of him. The driver's anxious face was reflected on them.

Noticing that Chen Min had spotted him, the driver shrunk back his neck and quickly left the mirror's line of sight.

"Really? But you look like you're clearly faster than me." Xiao Yi took out her phone and glanced at the GPS. Before she finished talking, Chen Min had already hung up. "So secretive...no wait... could it be that that asshole is trying to get a room with the loli?!"

The story was not as Xiao Yi guessed. A taxi that was speeding along the coastal highway made a buzzing sound shortly after Chen Min hanged up.

"Boss, does your engine have some problems?" Chen Min asked with a smile.

"Oh, yes. There's always something wrong with it, wait for me to do a quick fix, then it'll be fine." While the driver was speaking, he pulled the taxi into a downhill slope in a small road, "I'll have to trouble you to wait, sorry."

The fat driver skillfully opened the hood, and yet didn't take action to repair the engine. His eyes were fixed on the crooked chisel next to the engine.

"Since you're prepared to kill someone, then you should've prepared some decent toys. Penetration types of blunt weapons[4] like crooked chisels can't hit vital areas and the wounds are easy to deal with. I know that it's not easy to get guns in China, but tomahawk and serrated knives should be easier to get right?" Chen Min was just like a ghost or a goblin as he leaned on the car. "Did I get that right? Zhao Qian."

[4]: This absolutely makes no sense. Blame the raws.

"You...How did you know it was me?" Zhao Qian quickly hugged the crooked chisel to his chest out of instinct.

"The engine is new, but the scratches on the front bumper are the same as this morning. The Dream Jade figurine has been taken down so this can be considered you being diligent, but could I trouble you to change your clothes? They're what exposed you..." Chen Min sighed as he stretched his neck and walked towards Zhao Qian who was holding a weapon in his hands.

"What do you want to do? Don't come any closer!" Zhao Qian was so anxious that sweat soaked his back. He held the crooked chisel and faced Chen Min. Even though he was 180cm tall and weighed 90kg, he was obviously an obese person, apart from driving and masturbating, he had never fought before, not to mention killing someone.

"Don't you think your request is too excessive? This morning, it was obviously you who was following us, and tonight, you even purposely ferried us and yet you don't let us come closer?" Chen Min said as he took off his suit jacket and unbuttoned his shirt cuffs. He just didn't want blood stains on his clothes. "You're very lucky, nowadays, I can't kill people. But to ensure that you won't be a threat to my employer, I can just leave some permanent damage on your body. Would you rather have your biceps or your hamstring removed? I won't touch your kidney, I'll leave that so you can trade it in for an iphone 6[5]!"

[5]Reference to a guy who traded his kidney for an iphone 6 on the black market

"Bastard! Why is it that someone like you attained Dream Jade's love?! You obviously don't understand her at all! You completely don't understand her songs! She's such a clean and direct girl, you can't protect her at all! You will only hurt her like that scumbag named Jun! YOU. HAVE. TO. DIE!" Chen Min was stupefied. He had obviously made a mistake. The Zhao Qian in front of him was obviously full of animosity towards him.

"Die!" The clamouring Zhao Qian summoned his courage, clenched the crooked chisel and stabbed towards Chen Min's head, only to have it snatched from his hands by two of Chen Min's fingers. At the same time, Chen Min threw a kick at Zhao Qian's chest. That fatso rolled along the slope just like a ball, all the way to the beach 10m away. There was even blood coming out of his nose.

"Since you're seriously attacking me, then I should give you the respect all opponents deserve." Chen Min waved his hand and the crooked chisel was inserted upright into the asphalt road with a "shua".

But right when Chen Min was about to "work", Dream Jade pulled back his arm.

"You're up? The following parts will be a bit bloody. You shouldn't watch." Chen Min flicked away Dream Jade's hand but just when he was about to move forward, he was pulled back once again. "What do you mean by this?"

"Dont hit him, he's a friend of mine." Dream Jade said firmly.

"You know him?" Chen Min said with surprise.

Dream Jade took off her mask and quickly ran in front of Zhao Qian. Half squatting, she gave a handkerchief to him who was currently having a nosebleed.

"Sorry about that, my bodyguard is very slow and frightened you. Just now I was too tired so I didn't recognize you. You should be the one that went up on stage and gave me flowers during my debut concert right" Dream Jade said with a smile.

"You... actually remember me?!" Zhao Qian was moved to tears and completely forgot the pain in his chest.

"Please, I haven't had many concerts. That time, you need to have the VIP pass to be able to come onto the stage and give me flowers. Looking at your clothing, I can also tell that you aren't a rich man, you should've spent quite a bit of money to attend the concert?" Dream Jade apologetically stuck out her tongue.

"Dream Jade, I love you! I really love you a lot! I've listened to all your songs one by one! Those gossips and those people that hurt you are all animals! They should all go to hell..." The more Zhao Qian spoke, the more excited he got. But before he finished speaking, Dream Jade ruthlessly hit him on the head.

"Don't randomly curse other people, it's very rude. I thank you for liking my songs, and loving me is fine, but there are two things that you cannot do." Dream Jade solemnly raised two fingers, "1. You are not allowed to masturbate to my photos; 2. Don't decide who I should love and who I should hate for me.

See that cold bodyguard behind me? I like him, not because he has money or because he's romantic, but rather because he makes me feel safe. I've already gone so many years without the feeling of being protected, so, if you dare to hurt him, I definitely won't let you off. Do you understand?!"

Dream Jade's roar startled Zhao Qian so badly that he immediately nodded his head. He clearly did not have the understanding of Dream Jade that he flaunted.

"That's good, live your life well, continue listening to my songs. If you have some spare change, please come to the finals, I will definitely become the champion." Dream Jade patted Zhao Qian's shoulder, stood up and ran back to Chen Min's side.

"What do you mean by this?" Chen Min powerlessly felt that his job had been stolen.

"If you can use your mouth to deal with problems, don't use your fists. Didn't you also use your mouth to deal with me yesterday?" Dream Jade proudly said.

"You win, anyway, let's go home. Today was really frustrating." Chen Min was also tired from the bottom of his heart.

Chapter 14 - The Day of the Finals

It was night, the moon was bright and the stars were few. The coastal road was filled with cars. And yet, beneath the orange street lights, there was a rented bicycle speeding speeding along the road.

A huge rabbit doll was sitting on the top tube in front of Chen Min, nestling in his chest just like a lover. As for Dream Jade, she was sitting in the back seat, embracing Chen Min's waist with a single arm, and leaning on his back. When the wind blew past her legs, it would cause her short skirt to flutter up, her zebra striped stockings flashing a halo of light that attracted wolves.

Dream Jade's arbitrary release of that driver caused Chen Min to have fish bone stuck in his throat[1]. However, he wasn't worried that that kind of trash could cause him any problems. He just really wanted to know, how such a mentally impaired fanboy could find his whereabouts twice within two days. This definitely could not be explained by good luck.

He originally wanted to use some interrogation techniques from the battlefield to obtain information, but with Dream Jade, this kind of obstinate superstar, he had no chance to.

He rapidly biked Dream Jade back to the villa. Naturally, Xiao Yi was already there and chatting with Wu Neng. Dream Jade was tired, so she directly went upstairs to rest while hugging the rabbit doll which was even taller than her. Chen Min on the other hand, somberly sat opposite Wu Neng

"What do you plan on doing? Wu Neng asked.

"From now onwards, Miss Dream Jade's protection level will be increased. I have to know her schedule 12 hours in advance, including a list of who she's going to meet and their personal information." Chen Min said frankly.

"What? Did that driver scare you? Xiao Yi already told me what happened. All though the fan was a crackpot, but aren't you a bit too cowardly?" Wu Neng said with a tinge of disdain.

"What's worrying me isn't that fatass, but rather the real criminal behind that guy."

"You didn't find out who it was?" Wu Neng finally got serious.

"I didn't have the chance, but no matter, I know he'll make his move again. But next time, he'll regret provoking me." Chen Min callously said.

"I also want to see, which bastard dared to touch my client?" This was the first time that Wu Neng and Chen Min had a kind of tacit agreement.

Seeing this pair of top notch cold smiles, Xiao Yi unconsciously shivered.

On the fourth day, Wu Neng finally began to trust this bodyguard that did not want money. He not only told Chen Min the schedule 12 hours in advance, he even gave Chen Min the job of deciding the route. Although the route Chen Min plotted wasted an extra 5 to 10 minutes, the case of them being followed never happened again.

The finals got closer day by day. Dream Jade was so busy that even her sleeping time was pushed down to the lower limit. Every day she was interviewed non-stop, had to dance without pause, and sing without stopping. She was tired and dizzy in the toilet, and was exhausted to the point where she couldn't even hold her chopsticks. Suddenly, when she was talking about how the finals would progress, she had a 39.8°C fever and fell asleep in this way.....

What Wu Neng did for her was to wake her up and continue her unfinished work. As for Chen Min, he became a full-time nurse, and attentively took care of her body condition. It was hard to imagine how such a delicate girl was so tough. The work intensity was already so high that it threatened to tear her apart, and yet Dream Jade didn't say a single complaint.

In her view, this was what a celebrity should be. Only through putting in one hundred times as much effort as normal people, could they be worthy of their fan's admiration. These two days, Xiao Yi accompanied Dream Jade, causing her to lose interest in Wu Neng's proposal. Even Xiao Yi, who could for the sake of shooting more accurately, train until her arm cramped, wasn't willing to practice the same action on stage 200 times just to please others.

On the 7th day, the day of the competition arrived. Since early morning, the outside of the stadium was completely surrounded by fan groups, the media, old grandmas selling glow sticks and ticket scalpers all came at the appointed time. Several local channels even interrupted their regularly scheduled programs from time to time to report about the event. It was as if the World Cup's finals were about to be held there.

The concert's security was also not bad. Apart from a mobile security team every 30m watching the stage, there was even a human wall made out of as many as 30 security guards surrounding the stage.

"With this kind of lineup, it shouldn't reach our turn to act right?" In front of the audience area, Xiao Yi said as she followed Chen Min in familiarizing herself with the event venue. Seeing the lineup of security guards up ahead, Xiao Yi had the pleasurable feeling of having her job stolen.

"Before the contract expires, we have to go all out! This is a duty." Chen Min meticulously checked the environment. He even used measuring instruments.

"Up to you. That said, once it's over, what are you going to do? Do you want to continue being Dream Jade's bodyguard? I can see that she likes you quite a bit." Asked with her hands in her pocket while looking elsewhere.

"The Chen Family Bodyguard Service undertakes all kinds of protection missions, but has never worked with the same person more than once. Even though I don't know why, but this is dad's rule. I have to respect it." Chen Min calmly replied.

"If Dream Jade knew about this rule, she would definitely be very sad." Xiao Yi sighed lightly.

"She won't know, because I'll quietly leave. I don't plan on saying goodbye." Chen Min finally finished checking the stage. He kept away his tools and said," let's go! Back to the dressing room."

"Emotionless machine..... Just what kind of sin must be committed in the past life, to blindly fall for you, this thing, in this one?" Xiao Yi softly said to herself.

"My ears are very good, don't talk bad about me behind my back, be careful, I might just dock your pay." Chen Min had already walked 5m away.

"Am I even getting paid?" Xiao Yi coldly laughed before catching up to him.

The contestants' dressing rooms for the finals were actually once a lounge used by an entire football team. A room meant for 20+ people was given to a single person to use luxuriously.

The makeup time was almost over, but Wu Neng still had 10+ workers standing outside the door, queuing up like gay people outside a park's lady's room.

"what's going on?" Xiao Yi curiously asked.

"Dream Jade is currently trying on clothes, she said she wants to see Chen Min, alone. Please come in, my great bodyguard." Wu Neng personally opened the entrance to the dressing room for Chen Min.

Chen Min, not thinking much about it, walked into the dimly lit dressing room where costumes could be seen everywhere. Only the space just in front of the wide dressing mirror was lit by white incandescent bulbs.

"Dream Jade?"

*Just a minute!" Behind a screen, Dream Jade was hurriedly changing clothes. However, despite struggling for a long time, she still hadn't finished. She could only depressedly walk out from behind the screen with both her hands covering her chest.

Today, she was wearing a tight skirt that had inlaid crystal pieces, and she was wearing thin high-heeled shoes which also had the same crystal pieces embedded on them. This let the loli that was only 1.55m appear tall, and full of mature charm.

"What is it?" Chen Min softly asked.

"My zipper's jammed, help me pull it up." Dream Jade felt wronged as she turned around, exposing her smooth S-sized back.

Along with the sound of the zipper being zipped up, Dream Jade's heartbeat couldn't help but speed up, her cheek turning red like a young lady.

"I've pulled it up, I'll be leaving now." Chen Min wanted to leave.

"Stop right there! I didn't look you up to seduce you!" Dream Jade pulled the corner of Chen Min's shirt.

"Is there anything else?" There were times when Chen Min couldn't understand a young lady's heart.

"Here, for you." Dream Jade put an SD card into Chen Min's palm.

"What's this?" Chen Min said with doubt.

"Brat, you're very lucky. This contains the recording of my new song, which I originally planned to use for the finals. However, even though the composer liked it, Wu Neng insisted on a pop song. Therefore, after I vent my anger I will never sing this song again. You've been with me for so long, and saved me a few times, this can be considered a gift for you.

If you are lacking money, just take this and sell it to a music company. It should be enough to buy a suite on Fifth Ring Road." Dream Jade laughed, "Of course, I don't wish for you to do this."

"Understood, I'll keep it properly." Chen Min kept the SD card in his pocket, then turned around and left.

"Pa!" Dream Jade jumped up and hit Chen Min's forehead, "Idiot, who wants you to keep it away?! You need to listen to it, listen to it, understand?"

"You... don't randomly attack people that you are no match for, only I wouldn't hit back." Chen Min frowned as he rubbed his forehead.

"Knowing that you won't, and still not bullying you? Do you take me for an idiot?" Dream Jade asked, pleased with herself.

But right then, a large amount of workers flashed past Chen Min and entered the dressing room, then began working busily. While Dream Jade may be a celebrity to others, to them, she was just their working platform. Her most beautiful appearance was treated as the sign for them to continue working. Chen Min who could be said to have been forced out by them, conveniently closed the door

“What did she look you up for?” Outside, Wu Neng casually asked.

“Her zipper was stuck, she asked me to help her with it.” Chen Min said without a word more.

The night silently arrived and the audience completely packed the stadium. The tens of thousands of people were all waving glow sticks and making signs which said “You can do it ” with neon lights. The event area’s atmosphere heated up to its highest point very early on.

The audience was so excited that it seemed like they had been injected with chicken’s blood, but all the staff were so anxious it was like they were about to give birth. The four judges sat on magnificent chairs, whereas Quick Mouth Hua was repeatedly alternating between drinking ice water and hot water to stimulate his tongue. Before this guy became a host, he must have been working at Dong Guan.[2]

There were still 10mins till the event started, but the sounds of cheering of “Dream Jade” and “Green Tea” resounded through the night sky. With the benefit of knowing Dream Jade, Chen Min and Xiao Yi sat on the VIP seats beside the stage, and the people surrounding them were all people from the “rich and famous social circle”. They were different from those audience members holding VIP tickets, crowding around the stage and shouting. They not only had places to sit, but also attendants responsible for pouring tea and water for them. They were all sitting on sofas, and had air conditioners to drive away the heat of Lin Hai's city's nighttime.

Xiao Yi saw many superstars, some of which even took the initiative to start a conversation with her, making her feel embarrassed. On the other hand, Chen Min was leisurely sitting on his seat contentedly, putting the SD card that Dream Jade gave him into his phone, then wearing a pair of earphones.

What Dream Jade definitely would not expect, was that because of his job as a professional bodyguard[3], Chen Min would never let both of his ears be fully covered, and he would also not listen to any songs, because it would lower his awareness towards the surroundings.

But because of Dream Jade's good intentions, he pressed the play button of a music software for the first time. The simple guitar sounds, just like the sounds of nature's voice, and those lyrics.....It turns out that, people don't necessarily have to be begging for their feelings to be visibly sincere.

[1]如鲠在喉 chinese saying used to describe a person has a criticism that he must express or pent up feelings that he must give vent to.

When concert formally started, fireworks could be seen from 5 kilometres away, and the sound of cheering reached the sky.

At the moment where the venue was noisy, Zhao Qian parked his taxi next to the curb behind the carpark, and hung a sign that said "No service".

Zhao Qian, who was nervous to the point where his palms were full of sweat, dialled a number, "Hello? I'm here. Benefactor, where are you?"

"Listen to the sound, I'm inside the stadium." The background noise in the phone call belonged to the celebrities who were currently singing live.

"Benefactor, are we really going to do this? I feel that this just isn't right..." Zhao Qian timidly said.

“Relax, you’re just the backup plan. We might not even need your assistance. Remember, as long as Dream Jade doesn’t become the champion, she’ll leave the entertainment industry and become a normal girl. At that time, you guys might actually find some common ground.

Or do you want her to win and bring that perverted bodyguard to have fun¹

[1] with her every night? ” The voice sneered.

“No way! I absolutely cannot let Miss Dream Jade get violated by that sort of man—she’s so delicate, so petite... her body won’t be able to handle it!” Zhao Qian was already firmly grasped within the palm of the speaker.

“That’s all. Just wait patiently.” After it finished speaking, the voice hung up.

While the finals of《China’s Wonderful Sound》were still in progress, the disqualified contestants were collectively singing on-stage, with some celebrities who were present even performing to show support. Even instructors personally sang some songs. It could be seen just how lively it was. However, this was merely an appetizer before the main course. Everyone had been eagerly anticipating for the last two finalists to get on stage as soon as possible the whole time.

Suddenly, after the contestants, celebrities and instructors had finished singing all of the popular songs, all the lights on-stage went out, except for a single one in the middle of the stage. Everyone couldn’t help but hold their breaths.

The symphony orchestra started playing a touching musical accompaniment, the song,《Snow Buries the Flower》, and all of the fans began to cheer excitedly .

The only thing that could be seen was Dream Jade slowly rising from a black hole in the middle of the stage, with a microphone in her hands. Even though the familiar 《Snow Buries the Flowers》was only 4 years old, when Dream Jade had initially created the song, it had been to pay respect to classical love songs, so it had the same simple charm of old songs from the 90s.

Listening to it once again after a long time, the feeling was akin to having their loved ones return home from a faraway place. Which caused some people to be unable to stop from having tears appear in their eyes. Some fans who were emotionally moved started to cry uncontrollably—both for the grievances that Dream Jade had suffered along the way, and for her constant difficulties.

Dream Jade was just like a princess today. She was wearing a short dress with sparkling crystals and Cinderella-esque glass slippers. Her clothing today was as if it was the day of her nirvana.

“Lil sis’ Dream Jade truly is quite good-looking, and her song is also pleasant to hear.” Xiao Yi, who was below the stage, was quickly intoxicated by the song, while Chen Min who was still wearing his earphones, set his phone’s music player to loop a single song continuously.

The four judges were deeply convinced by Dream Jade’s singing skill, but after all, this was a concert, and opening with such a sad and slow song affected the atmosphere. The judges wanted to deduct her marks in the audience control category.

Before the judges, who were already prepared to make a statement and instruct her, could react, the symphony spontaneously stopped, and the rock band on the other side immediately started playing an extremely dynamic accompany. Over ten backup dancers jumped on the stage, and, like gangsters, ripped the clothes that Dream Jade was wearing into shreds. The fans who were in the front row felt like going onstage and beating them up.

But as soon as all of the lighting on stage lit up, Dream Jade could be seen amongst a pile of shattered crystals. All that was left on her body was a bandaged-style swimsuit and a pair of crystal slippers. This stunning appearance had been similar to the female character's appearance in the 《The Fifth Element》. The most important part to her delicate breasts had been covered up while the parts below and above the arcs of the bandage could be seen quite clearly.

Although she did not have busty boobs or a round ass of a sex figure, there was still an alluring appeal which was radiating from her entire body. Regardless of gender, everyone was completely spellbound.

Dream Jade appeared to be a little embarrassed, as a profuse blush could be seen on her small face. Lifting up her right arm high into the air, she yelled out loud, "Let's get high!!"

She still sung 《Snow Buries the Flower》, but coordinated it with dynamic dancing and musical arrangement, transforming the earlier sorrowful emotion into the hottest of flames, so hot that even the judges had begun to sway to the beat of her song.

Dream Jade staked it all. She, who was not familiar with these types of fiery dances, danced a sensual split, really selling off her short legs and A-cup breasts. Her bashful red face which was simply exquisite..

Once the song finished, the whole audience exploded into a thunder-like applause. Even the judges' comments were interrupted by the cheering sounds, and all kinds of compliments were given to Dream Jade. She received a score of 9.6 after comprehensive evaluation.

After thanking the country and instructor, the panting Dream Jade turned around and headed backstage. Her eyes couldn't help but look towards Chen Min who was seated in the VIP area. His appearance while listening to the song made her unable to help exposing a smile.

"I never would've thought that this big sister who is used to slow songs would actually switch to fast songs. You've worked really hard." At the entrance to the backstage, Green Tea who had changed into a white evening dress stood there.

"Green Tea, just for today, can we not fight with words, and instead rely on our own strength in a fair competition?" Dream Jade sighed and asked for peace.

"Rely on our strength? Do you really think you can beat me?" Green Tea disdainfully walked on stage.

Tonight was a real shocker. Dream Jade who was conservative and liked slow songs, decided to start with a fiery dance, whereas Green Tea who loved exposing skin and fast dances decided to wear a long dress, and started by singing a classical slow song,《Itchy》[2].

There wasn't a single backup dancer. The stage's backdrop was changed to that of a bamboo forest on a rainy day. A symphony made up of Gu Zheng, Er Hu and flute showcased traditional

East Asian culture

The streaks of rain falling down from the sky swiftly soaked Green Tea's evening dress. At that moment, everyone understood. Green Tea not selling her body was all an act! The almost transparent white one piece dress was completely stuck to her wheat coloured skin, and the sole thing on her lower body was a G-string Thong. As for her upper body, there were only two pasties covering her nipples.

The audience was focused on her as she sang and danced. She used the performance style of a western drama[3]. Every time she lifted her leg, it would go over her head, and every time she threw back her body, it looked like her beelike waist would break. As the audience were watching until their faces were red and their hearts jumped, they still had to worry about whether or not her leg would stretch out too much, causing every part to tear.

Taking another look at 《Itchy》's lyrics, "Come on, live happy, there's plenty of time anyway. Come on, the feeling of love, there's plenty of stupidity and conceit(lust) anyway"

Note: Lyrics are not meant to be translated go listen to the song yourself.

Today, Green Tea danced very slowly to ensure that every single member of the audience could see every inch of her skin. Moreover, she even hugged one of the bamboo trees and started a chinese style pole dance. Her arms were full of strength, which she used to twist her body into a skywalk[3]. Dream Jade couldn't not admit that Green Tea getting to the finals, apart from having enough a strong enough backing, was also because she herself was indeed quite capable.

Seeing this, the last two instructors which were male couldn't not sit cross-legged to cover up their abnormally protruding crotch area. Naturally, Green Tea received 9.8 points and for the time being, gained a lead on Dream Jade.

The second song, Dream Jade returned to singing slow songs. The stage backdrop was changed to that of a school, and she sang 《My Old Classmate》[4]. Dream Jade, who looked like a green jade of a small family[5], went up on stage wearing a youthful sailor uniform. Along with the male backup dancer, she used lyrics and dance steps to depict a bittersweet, long lasting love of a boy and a girl. Evoking the childhood memories of quite a few people, which earned her a total of 9.8 points.

Green Tea also returned to her identity of queen of quick dances, and sang Korea's Long Leg Era's 《TAXI》. She sang loudly and danced exaggeratedly. Worthy of being called someone who spent a long time in Korea, Green Tea's Korean was of an exceedingly high standard. It was completely due to her professional training, she got a total points of 9.8, breaking even with Dream Jade.

The third song was selected by the opponent. The two students finally stood on the same stage. Green Tea faced the instructors and audience with a smile, then said, "since today is so lively, then I'll also choose the best song from that singing session,《Xiao San》[6]

As soon as that song's name came out, the whole venue immediately broke up into multiple discussions. Even Quick Mouth Hua could smell the thick scent of gunpowder. Moreover, this song was not one of the 10 given to the opponent to choose from.

"As long as you say you can't, you have the power to request that she changes it." Quick Mouth Hua whispered in Dream Jade's ear.

"Forget it, only today, I'm in an especially good mood so I won't whine about it." Dream Jade nodded to show that she accepted. The stage was once again given to Dream Jade. The third song was sung without any dancing or acting and even removed all music. It was just her using her true voice to desperately battle it out.

On the stage, under the spotlights, Dream Jade held the microphone in her hand as she faced the 10,000+ audience members with a smile and said, "before I start singing, I want to take this chance to clear up that misunderstanding from three years back. Presumably everyone is clear on that event that had me labelled a mistress. Of course lil sis Green Tea who chose that song for me is definitely the most clear." Laughter broke out beneath the stage.

"That's right, Liang Jun and I were in love, but I was not a mistress. The excuse he gave me was that he was already divorced, he even guaranteed that he was single with a devout oath. Only after he did so did I then begin my period of passion. If I knew that he was that kind of bad person, I definitely wouldn't have been a girl that affected someone else's marriage. Towards love, I too have a bottom line.

So today, would everyone please listen to me sing 《xiao san》[7]. Let's see if I have the slightest sense of guilt okay?"

Without any music, Dream Jade started a beat using a single hand by snapping her fingers. Singing with a clear and distinct voice for such a common rock 'n roll was quite refreshing and refined. The most powerful thing was that after casting away her many years of pain and burden, even the sound felt like it was flying. She got another 9.8 points, and garnered an enthusiastic applause from the whole venue. It was not only because of the song, but also because of Dream Jade's honesty and frankness. This was exactly the quality which was hardest to obtain in the entertainment industry.

"It is impolite to not reciprocate, since you helped me choose a good song, then I obviously have to do the same for you, how about you come and sing 《Pleasant Goat》[8]!" Dream Jade smiled and countered. The song, similar to what Green Tea picked, also not one of the 10 given to the opponent to choose from. However, if Green Tea said she could not sing this, then she really would be laughed at to no end.

Green Tea who was unhappy because her trickery did not succeed, had a black face. Adding on that singing without anything else was her weak point, 《Pleasant Goat》was sung so badly she lost her standard. Total of 9.6 points.

For the next three songs, Green Tea, who was originally expected to win, unexpectedly tied with Dream Jade.

"Just you wait, for the last song, I will make you die so hideously..." After getting down from the stage, Green Tea's face had a sinister look.

"I don't know how hideously I can die, but you are quite hideous right now. go fix your makeup." Dream Jade was crossed her arms in front of her chest and said with a smile.

[1] Sex

[2] It's an actual song <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LMGJOTa1Kdl>

[4] another actual song https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9L_3Sqhp-_l

It's also the name of a movie

[5] Lit Tled 小家碧玉 means beautiful daughter from family of small means; beauty of humble birth etc.

[6] <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7uQtPM6dcl0> closest thing i found raws used 《你做了别人的小三》 instead of just 《小三》

[7] This one is just 《小三》btw if you search it up there's at least 3 songs with that title so I'm not sure which one the author is referring to.
